Overpower 3 Attendants At State Institution

60 To 70 Lawmen Join Search After Inmates Flee Security Ward

By BRUCE BRUGMANN
Star Staff Writer

Five "dangerous" inmates of the Lincoln State Hospital Wednesday evening overpowered three maximum security ward attendants and escaped.

All but one of the escapees were transfers from state penal institutions.

Some 60 to 70 lawmen and Penitentiary guards formed a dragnet, combing the area around the hospital and the city of Lincoln.

The five inmates overpowered Psychiatric Aides Dave Bates, 58, of 2801 No. 26th, Fred Stevens, 50, of 537 Arthur and George Jenkin, 56, of 1204 Rose shortly before a smoke break in the maximum security ward on the ground floor of the Old Main Hall Building.

Jenkin

The inmates were list ' as:

VIRGIL D. RILEY—20, Omaha, sentenced to Reformatory; sentenced Nov. 4, 1954 on four-year burglary term from Douglas County; sentenced Nov., 1955, two-year term for second-degree arson resulting from Reformatory fire and revolt.

LEO BERNARD JOHN GILBERT—16, Omaha, transfer from Kearney Industrial School; charged with intent to rape by Omaha authorities after escaping from Kearney in Aug., 1956.

JAMES HUNTER—28, Lincoln, transfer from Penitentiary; escaped from Lancaster County jail May, 1951; charged with car theft after escape and sentenced to six years in prison in May; 1951.

ROBERT COONS—24, Omaha, no penal record, is third escape from hospital; escaped Feb. 24, 1957, by breaking lock and walking down fire escape, apprehended Feb. 25 in Council Bluffs, Ia.

JOHN SANFORD WARD—20, Startford, Can.; Canada; six-year terms for burglary and auto theft from Dakota County; two escape attempts at Penitentiary; was one of 11 convicts who captured two pen guards in March, 1955, and held them hostage.

Jumped Attendant

The three hospital aides and the five inmates were sitting in the day room of the ward, waiting for the announcement to move to an adjoining room for a periodic "smoke break."

Suddenly, Stevens said, "the big guy (Riley) jumped up, ran into the office room and grabbed hold of Bates."

"Hunter and Coon grabbed me," he continued," and the other guy (Gilbert) got hold of Jenkin." He said the inmates forced the three into the office with Bates.

"I stepped back during the scuffle," Bates explained, "and fell over a chair."

The assailants took the key to the outer door from Bates, as he lay on the floor, and escaped through the north door. As they left, Stevens was thrown to the floor.

Only injury was Stevens' sprained thumb.

Escape time was approximately 7:50 p.m. Bates immediately notified the switchboard operator in the hospital, and within minutes a police dragnet fanned the area, and set up road blocks.

All escapees, unarmed and apparently fleeing on foot, were dressed in white T-shirts and khaki or blue trousers and shirts.

Included in the dragnet were more than 20 Penitentiary guards under Warden Joseph Bovey; nine Lancaster County 'eputies and the sheriff; 18 to 20 State Patrolmen, mostly in patrol cars, and 13 city policemen and one fireman in seven cruiser cars.

All city police on duty were also searching their regular beats for the inmates.

Anglo, U.S. Chiefs Start Bermuda Conference

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) —President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan Wednesday night opened their American-British partnership-mending conference with an informal "working dinner."

The two chiefs got into preliminary discussions over the table at their Mid-Ocean Club conference headquarters.

Only Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary, Selwyn Lloyd and the U.S. and British ambassadors, John Hay Whitney and Sir Harold Caccia, joined Eisenhower and Macmillan for the dinner talks.

Eisenhower arrived Wednesday on the cruiser Canberra and stepped ashore from a barge at Albouys Point in Hamilton. He was met by Macmilian and Bermuda's governor, Lt. Gen. John Woodall.

A 21-gun salute boomed from the British ship Vidal as the barge approached the shore. The President looked tanned and fit after his six-day cruise on the Canberra.

"Harold, how are you?" he said with a warm smile as he reached for the hand of the Prime Minister, a friend since World War II campaigning days in North Africa.

Confident

Macmillan arrived by air from London Wednesday morning.

Both chiefs expressed confidence that American-British friendship will be strengthened by their meeting.

Macmillan, in a statement on arrival at windswept Kindley Field Airport, said:

"We have a good deal to get done in a few days and I'm sure that our talks will be valuable and help build up strong pillars of Anglo-American friendship and co-operation upon which the whole life and future of the free world depends."

The President, speaking without notes, drew cheers from welcoming dignitaries when he declared:

"It is a great pleasure to be once again in this lovely island. Since the Prime Minister of Britain and I have had a chance to talk together about world problems much has happened.

Long-Term Bonds

"I'm sure that in the next few days we can do much to strengthen the long-term bonds that have bound together the British empire and my country. Our countries are very old friends, indeed, and this is a very happy occasion because of the fact that your Prime Minister and I are very old friends—a fact of which I'm very proud.

"I expect to have, therefore, not only a very interesting, enjoyable visit here to your island, but one which I hope will, and I am confident will, rebound to the betterment of both our peoples because of the strong friendships and understandings that are certain to come out of it."

The conference opens formally Thursday and will continue until Sunday.

Middle East

Dominating the discussion program is the need for agreed U.S. and British positions on many aspects of the tangled Middle East situation, including the Suez Canal dispute, the Arab-Israeli crisis and the menace of Soviet influence.

But Eisenhower and Macmillan are to explore other world trouble spots and review the whole field of U.S.-British relations.

The President looked well to onlookers when he came ashore, although he was seen to cough several times.

Abolishing Control Board Gets Okay

Committee Sends Constitutional Amendment Bill To Unicam Floor

A bill aimed at abolishing the Board of Control as a constitutional agency and putting operation of state institutions under a code department passed the Judiciary Committee hurdle Wednesday and advanced to the floor of the Legislature.

Following a hearing at which no opposition to the bill was voiced, LB 400 was advanced on a 6-0 vote with one senator not voting. The measure was introduced by Sen. Donald McGinley.

A bill aimed at abolishing the Board of Control as a constitutional agency and putting operation of state institutions under a code department passed the Judiciary Committee hurdle Wednesday and advanced to the floor of the Legislature.

Following a hearing at which no opposition to the bill was voiced, LB 400 was advanced on a 6-0 vote with one senator not voting. The measure was introduced by Sen. Donald McGinley.

The bill, introduced as a result of a legislative council study, calls for a vote in the 1958 election on a constitutional amendment to place "management, control and government of all state charitable, mental, reformatory and penal institutions" under the direction of the Legislature.

Since 1913 the Board of Control has had that sole responsibility by virtue of a constitutional amendment passed at the 1912 election. Under the constitution, the governor appoints the members of the board and the board is not responsible to the Legislature.

McGinley told the committee that he considers "much of the present system obsolete," that the board was created to keep the institutions from becoming "political footballs," and that, "We are past the day when a legislative body could come under suspicion" of playing politics with the state's institutions.

Women Back Bill

He was backed up in his testimony by former State Sen. Glen Cramer and by representatives of the League of Women Voters.

The two main objections to the present board setup, according to McGinley, are that the board is "not sure" how much authority it can delegate under the constitution and that the status of institutions is frozen.

On the first point he explained that the board has responsibility for policy making, executive work and administrative procedures for the institutions. He said some people feel the board overlaps into areas which could be covered by technical persons in the institutions.

Unicam 'Restricted'

"Policy is only what the board decides it should be," he said, "and I don't believe that the people, when they voted for the creation of the board, realized the extent to which they were restricting the Legislature."

Regarding the objection of "institution freezing," McGinley said that there is no provision for a change in direction of institutions as their character changes over the years. He noted that some institutions which were originally set up as charitable "asylums" have become schools. Yet, he said, they continue under the board and no one has the power to transfer their control to any other department.

McGinley added that former Board of Control members Charles Eubank and William Diers endorse the bill, while he said that it is his understanding that at least two of the present board members, Chairman Thomas Dredla and Vice Chairman Mrs. Catherine Martin, oppose the amendment.

Guns Still As Israel Ship Sails

...Through Aqaba

JERUSALEM (INS) — Israeli sources said Wednesday night the Israeli-chartered freighter Pandora cleared the Tiran Straits at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba without incident on a test run past Saudi Arabian shore batteries.

The Pandora, flying the Costa Rican flag, began a voyage to East Africa early Wednesday from Elath.

Saudi Arabia previously had announced its coastal batteries on the Tiran Straits would prevent any Israeli vessel from passing through.

But it had been reported that the Saudi Arabian gunners might not fire on the Pandora since it was flying the Costa Rican flag and was manned by Greek sailors — even though four Israeli passengers were aboard.

The Pandora for a while during the Middle East crisis was listed as Israeli-owned and was called the Queen of Sheba.

The voyage of the Pandora coincided with the disclosure that an American tanker will reach Elath in late April with 15,000 tons of crude oil from Middle East wells.

The oil will be pumped through the new eight-inch Elath-to-Beersheba pipeline.

Defeated

JERUSALEM (AP) — A Communist no-confidence motion against the Israeli government was defeated Wednesday by 45 votes to 5 in the Knesset (Parliament).

Proposing the motion, deputy Moshe Sneh charged the government's threat to take military action in the Gaza area only served the purposes of the Eisenhower doctrine.

Curfew

CAIRO (INS) — Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, Egyptian governor, ordered a six-hour nightly curfew in Gaza and warned the population to stay at least 325 yards away from the truce lines.

A 6 p.m. to 4 a.m. curfew was clamped on all main roads.

Egypt complained to the United Nations Emergency Force (UNEF) command earlier that five Israeli planes flew over the disputed Gaza strip Wednesday morning.

War Possible

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion predicts another Arab-Israeli war is possible but probably not immediately.

Israel's 70-year-old leader made his grim statement in a letter sent to border settlements.

The Arabs, Ben-Gurion said, may be expected to renew efforts to fight in an open war against Israel—though probably not within the next few months.

"But even this is not certain," he cautioned.

House Lops Another Half Billion Off Budget

...NEW MURMURS OF TAX CUT HEARD

WASHINGTON (INS) — The congressional economy drive rode along in high gear Wednesday as the House slashed 538 million dollars from President Eisenhower's request to operate nearly a score of small agencies.

The House approved $5,385,201,700 for the agencies, a cut of 9 per cent from the President's budget request.

Not only did the lawmakers back up the appropriations committee reductions but cut another 21 million dollars besides.

Other Developments

The action followed these other related developments:

1. House tax law writers began talking about a tax reduction if the drive to cut the budget continues.

2. Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) said "every economy must be made," but added that the "budget cutters are not going to panic me into voting for slashes that endanger our defense or foreign policy or to abandon my support for better schools for our children."

3. Rep. Coffin (D-Me) said the present record peacetime budget is no worse than others in terms of national income, which he noted is growing faster than the budget. He warned against raising hope for "really big cuts."

Before approving the money bill on a voice vote, the house rejected overwhelmingly a move to restore $4,700,000 cut by the committee from the federal civil defense administration's bomb shelter research plans. Rep. Fulton (R-Pa) said the agency would "put us all underground like worms and burrows."

Economy Amendments

Then Rep. Thomas (D-Texas) who was guiding the bill through the House, accepted three economy amendments sponsored by Democrats. One cut 19 million dollars earmarked for buying strategic materials, and two others sliced a total of two million dollars from the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) said the Democrats were 20 years late in advocating economy but told them that Republicans "welcome the sinners back home."

The Civil Defense agency suffered the biggest percentage cut with its 1958 operating funds whittled from a requested $130,000,000 to $39,300,000.

The biggest dollar cut came at the expense of the Veterans Administration which was sliced from $4,889,363,000 to $4,682,705,300. Most of the $206,657,700 cut was from such benefits as pensions and disability compensation which are set by law. The lawmakers said the agency could come back for more if it ran out of money.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) announced Wednesday he is introducing legislation to cut federal employment by about 300,000 for a prospective billion dollar budget saving.

Johnston heads the Senate Civil Service Committee. He said in a statement that he is accepting President Eisenhower's "Challenge to reduce the budget" of $71,800,000,000 in proposed spending for the year beginning next July 1.

"I had hoped the administration would fulfill its campaign promise to the American people to cut expenditures, thereby paving the way for a long overdue tax reduction," Johnston said. "Unfortunately, the administration either does not want or does not know how to accomplish that result."

President Eisenhower has ordered department heads to reexamine their budgets in search for economy. But he has insisted that if any substantial reductions are made they must come through slowing up or abandoning programs Congress has authorized.

Johnston said that by putting a ceiling on federal employment a billion dollar saving could be obtained in an orderly manner.

He proposed a ceiling of 2,125,000 workers, to be reached by restricting the hiring of replacements for one out of every four workers who leave federal service during the year. He said the payroll stood at 2,375,000 on Jan. 30.

Anti-Sub Units Get Reshuffle

Action Will Meet Attack Threat

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy announced Wednesday that America's anti-submarine forces are being reorganized to meet the threat of a "submarine-launched guided missile attack against the U.S."

The announcement coincided with the selection of a three-star officer, Adm. Frank T. Watkins, to succeed two-star Rear Adm. F. M. Hughes, as commander of anti-submarine forces in the U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, said Watkins will be given additional duties covering all types of submarine detection, including a seaward extension of the radar "Distant Early Warning line."

Wright declared: 'the possibility of submarine-launched guided missile attacks against the U.S. is a problem of utmost importance.

Fast Reaction

"A major objective of this change is to insure the fastest reaction possible of the fleet in the event of such an attack.

"The reorganization provides a team of specialists who will devote their full time to speeding up the fleet's program concerned with the detection and reporting of contacts, and the launching of counterattacks."

Watkins, a native of Provo, Utah, was submarine commander for the Atlantic Fleet when the atomic-powered U.S.S. Nautilus was launched.

After repeated studies of the Nautilus in action, he declared that present U.S. anti-submarine weapons would be ineffective against a missile-equipped, nuclear-powered undersea fleet such as Russia presumably seeks to build.

Needs Change

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —The U.S. and Belgium apparently decided Dag Hammarskjold needed a change from the man-made problems in the Middle East and suggested the Swedish bachelor turn his attention to women.

The two Western countries proposed in the U.N. Commission on the status of women that the Secretary General consider with member states the possibility of convening in 1958 or 1959 an international seminar of women who have served or are now members in parliaments or other major legislative bodies.

SPRING TO GET QUICKLY 'UN-SPRUNG'

The second day of spring Thursday is likely to seem more like the umpteenth day of winter—at least in Nebraska, forecasters predicted.

Rain or snow, snow and colder are all in the prediction.

Snow in the south-central area is seen for Thursday forenoon, rain or snow in the east all day and in the southeast Thursday night.

Colder air is to hit the east and south-central regions Thursday and the extreme northwest Friday.

Thursday's highs were to range from the 60s in the northwest to the 40s elsewhere.

The first day of spring Wednesday brought appropriately warm temperatures throughout Nebraska, but none of the "April showers that bring May flowers" arrived.

An official Weather Bureau message put it this way:

"The spring has sprung;

"The grass has riz.

"I wonder where the flowers is.

"It is 3:17 p.m. and spring is here."

Wednesday readings ranged from the mid-50s in the east to 69 at Chadron in the northwest.

The mercury at Imperial rose from an early-morning low of 16 to a high of 61. The Lincoln temperature range was 31 to 56.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Rain or snow east Thursday and southeast Thursday night. Snow south-central Thursday forenoon. Colder east, south-central and northwest Friday. High Thursday 60s northwest, 40s elsewhere.

KANSAS: Snow southwest, rain or snow north and rain southeast, ending west Thursday morning and extreme east by Thursday night. Turning colder over state Thursday; colder south-central and extreme southeast Thursday night. Highs 35-40 west to 40s east.

Fire Damages House After Family Moves

A Lincoln residence was "considerably" damaged by fire early Monday evening only hours after the family had moved to a new address.

The home of Dr. Alton M. Pardee, Lincoln physician, at 2815 So. 25th was damaged by fire and smoke shortly after the Pardee family moved to their new residence at 2601 Calvert.

Moving was completed at 5 p.m. The fire was reported at approximately 6:30 p.m.

Assistant Fire Chief Henry Spahn said the fire apparently started in the basement, possibly by a toaster hooked up by an intruder.

He said the blaze caused considerable damage in the east end of the basement, charring the wood work, ceiling and floor joists. Smoke damage was also heavy, he added.

No Sabotage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking State Department official reportedly told senators he knew of no evidence of sabotage of the plane in which President Ramon Magsaysay of the Philippines was killed.

William J. Sebald gave a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee a review of the Far Eastern situation at a closed session terminating his assignment as assistant secretary for Far Eastern affairs. He has been nominated by President Eisenhower to be ambassador to Australia.

Dave Beck Ordered To Appear Next Week

He'll Show Up With Financial Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Dave Back of the International Teamsters Union was ordered Wednesday to appear next Tuesday before senate rackets investigators—and to bring his financial records for 1949 through 1955.

This key development, heralding events that could be spectacular, interrupted testimony of Frank W. Brewster, a vice president of the teamsters and chairman of the union's Western conference.

Dave Beck

Among other things, Brewster told the special Senate committee investigating improper labor and industry activities he owes around $42,000 to George Newell of Seattle, who makes some $300,000 a year in brokerage fees on the union's health and welfare fund. The debt developed out of a racing stable partnership, now dissolved.

Brewster said he saw nothing wrong — no conflict of interest— in this or in 50-50 ownership with Beck of a leased-out filling station which does a big business with teamster headquarters in Seattle.

Senate investigators said Wednesday night they will seize under subpoena the personal financial records of Brewster unless he agrees Thursday to surrender them voluntarily.

The committee chairman, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), interrupted Brewster in mid-afternoon to say that just before the committee's 3 p.m. deadline he had received a telegram from Beck in Seattle advising that the teamsters' boss will show up with the requested financial records whenever he is called.

Beck had been given until 3 p.m. to volunteer such action or face a committee subpoena. He made his decision "on the advice of counsel, former Republican Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania.

Beck's telegram had a puzzling tagline — that he will appear with the records "without prejudice to my rights under the Constitution and Bill of Rights."

McClellan said he didn't know whether that meant Beck will make the records available to the committee or only bring them here physically. He said he hoped they "will be made available."

Another Question

There was a question, too, whether Beck was reserving his rights to take the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify on grounds of possible self incrimination.

The head of the teamsters was instructed to show up in the Senate caucus room, where the hearings are in their fourth week, at 10 a.m. next Tuesday.

Brewster's financial affairs, intertwined with those of the teamsters' Western conference, have been under searching scrutiny. Wednesday's instalment of the story involved Brewster's personal and financial ties with the broker, George Newell, a racing stable partnership with a Seattle pinball machine operator and teamsters member, and political donation which Brewster said the teamsters made to Republican Gov. Goodwin J Knight of California.

Knight said in Sacramento "we have no record" of any teamsters' contribution for any of the governor's campaigns.

Teamsters Involved In Cases Here

Several cases involving the Teamsters Union are pending in Nebraska.

Intimidating tactics by Nebraska teamsters locals were alleged in a recent Interstate Commerce Commission trial examiner hearing in Lincoln on the application of the Nebraska Shortline Carriers Inc. application to operate in interstate commerce.

Atty. Max Harding said the corporation was formed to circumvent alleged boycotts of shipments made by non-union trucking firms.

Testimony at the hearing, which lasted one month, has been forwarded to the ICC for decision on the granting of Shortlines' application.

Late in 1956, Federal Judge John W. Delehant granted a temporary injunction against striking employes of the Reimers-Kaufman and Ready Mixed Concrete Companies in Lincoln.

The National Labor Relations Board had requested the injunction against Teamsters Local 659, which went on strike June 21, 1956.

Issuing the injunction, Judge Delehant said there was sufficient evidence to believe the teamsters union "has engaged in unfair labor practices."

A second temporary injunction also was issued against General Drivers and Helpers Local 554 by Judge Delehant.

The injunction was issued in connection with a dispute between the union and two other firms, the Coffey Transfer Co. of Alma and Clark Brothers of Norfolk.

Picketing Alleged

The concrete strike involved alleged practices of picketing job sites handing material delivered by non-striking drivers.

The transfer firm dispute involved alleged refusal of union firms to handle freight originating or terminating at non-union firms.

The NLRB alleged these incidents constituted unfair labor practices.

The Omaha-headquartered local is charged with violating the injunction against maintaining secondary boycott of the Coffey and Clark firms.

A Federal Court hearing in Omaha is scheduled April 9 on a charge of criminal contempt against the teamsters local and two of its officers.

The Coffey firm sold out to the Burlington Truck Lines of Illinois. Owner Tom Coffey, now state purchasing agent, blamed labor troubles for the sale.

RUSSIAN GENERALS GO EASY ON BORSCH; TOLD TO SLIM DOWN

MOSCOW (AP) — Bemedaled Soviet generals and admirals sadly refused extra helpings of borsch, pancakes and sour cream Wednesday and instead flexed unaccustomed muscles in setting-up exercises.

Now everyone in the services, whether they ride a desk or a tank, is taking at least an hour of physical training daily.

A. Vanderbilt, 46, Marries Girl, 20, In Mexico City

CHICAGO (AP) — Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, 46, sportsman and heir to one of America's greatest fortunes, was married March 12 to Miss Jean Harvey, a willowy Chicago Post-debutante, her parents reported Wednesday.

Mrs. Daggett Harvey, the mother, said the wedding was in Mexico City and that no family members were present. She added that Vanderbilt and his 20-year-old bride are now in Florida and later probably will live in his Long Island, N.Y. home.

Vanderbilt, owner of the race horse Native Dancer, was divorced by Mrs. Jeanne Murray Vanderbilt in Gooding, Idaho last December. The couple have two children, Heidi, 8, and Alfred Jr., 6.

Vanderbilt's first marriage to the former Manuela Hudson ended in divorce in 1949. They have a daughter, Wendie.

The new Mrs. Vanderbilt attended Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Conn., and Wellesley College.

She made her debut at a supper dance in the Shoreacres Club, suburban Lake Bluff, in June 1954.

Navy Tugs Pull Queen Mary Out

. . . British Strike Defied

SOUTHAMPTON, England, (Thursday) (AP) — Six British Admirality tugs took the New York-bound liner Queen Mary out to sea early Thursday in defiance of striking shipyard workers. Union leaders declared they would retaliate with action to paralyze the whole port.

Office workers of the Cunard Line cast off the mooring lines of the big ship.

While hundreds of passengers lining the rails clapped and cheered, the tugs pulled the liner out into the shipping channel.

Union officials circled the tugs in a motor launch, shouting that civilian sailors on the tugs were strikebreakers.

Cabinet ministers ordered the Royal Navy tugs to take a hand.

The 81,000-ton Queen Mary, with more than 900 passengers aboard, was scheduled to sail Wednesday afternoon.

Repair Work

Sailors on privately owned tugs, however, refused to move her because of the shipyard strike.

The shipyard workers claim the liner was still undergoing repair work when their nationwide walkout for higher wages began last Saturday.

The Cunard Line insisted the repair work had been completed before the strike deadline fell.

What retaliatory action the shipyard unions would take was not disclosed immediately. It was thought, however, that they might appeal for a sympathy strike by all Southampton dock workers. This could completely cripple the port, one of the world's great shipping centers.

Eagle Slain

SHELBURNE, N.H. (AP) — A conservation officer found a dead American bald eagle—the national bird—floating in the Androscoggin River.

The bird, protected by both federal and state laws, had been shot twice, said officer Paul T. Doherty.

State Fish & Game Director Ralph G. Carpenter said few bald eagles are known to exist.

The dead bird's wing spread measured 7 feet from tip to tip. It weighed 15 pounds.

A conviction on a charge of shooting a bald eagle carries heavy federal and state penalties.

Iowa Senate Votes 70-60 Speed Limit

DES MOINES (AP)—A compromise speed limit bill providing for maximum speeds of 70 miles an hour in the daytime and 60 m.p.h. at night on Iowa highways was passed by the Iowa Senate and sent to the House Wednesday.

The vote on the measure was 33-16. It came at the end of nearly two days of wearisome debate.

The bill in the form in which it passed was described by Sen. Alan Vest (R-Sac City) as "a distinct compromise, much less than what the proponents of the bil want but more than its opponents want."

The measure now goes to the House where another debate is in prospect.

The bill in its final form bore little resemblance to the first measure introduced in the Senate.

The original bill sponsored by 22 senators, called for speed limits of 65 m.p.h. in the daytime and 55 at night on primary highways; 50 m.p.h. on secondary roads: 25 m.p.h. in urban districts and up to 70 m.p.h. on four-lane highways.

An amendment by Sen. Vest put the bill in its final form. As passed, it would make the 70-60 speed limits apply to all highways outside cities and towns, and would permit drivers to speed up when passing other vehicles.

Wayward Bus

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Workers at the Peublo Transportatin Co. garage admitted their faces were slightly red after they searched all night for a missing bus, valued at $5,000. After searching much of the night, they notified police.

The next morning the bus was found—in the company's paint stop.

Jury Starts Deliberations In Wesley Peery Burglary Trial

The jury deliberating the fate of Wesley H. Peery, accused of burglarizing the home of Assistant Police Chief Eugene Masters, recessed for the night at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday without reaching a decision.

The three-day case went to the jury of seven men and five women at 6 p.m. after instruction by Judge Harry Spencer.

Peery, 32, testified in his defense earlier that he had "never entered" the Masters' home on Jan. 15, 1956, and had "never seen" the stolen gun until after police officers found it in his car 15 days later.

Gone '15-20 Minutes'

Four defense witnesses testified that Peery was not gone from his sister's home more than 15 or 20 minutes the evening of the Masters burglary.

County Attorney Elmer Scheele told the jury that there was "no doubt in the evidence" that the burglary was committed, that the gun was found in Peery's car, and that three state witnesses linked Peery to the gun and the "tan Chrysler" on two other occasions.

But Defense Attorney John R. Doyle argued that the "state's only case is that the gun was found in Peery's car and that the defendant has a record."

"Our only explanation is that someone put the gun in the car," Doyle said. "But possession of a gun is not the crime of burglary."

"Peery's record has nothing to do with the charge or the facts in the case," Scheele countered. "The evidence came in under the rules of fair play and was damaging to the defense."

Peery's sister, Mrs. Frances Baldwin of 3281 Hitchcock, related Peery left the house about 6 p.m. to take his niece to work and returned before 6:30 p.m.

The 17-year-old niece said Peery drove her to the Dutch Mill, arriving about 6:10 p.m. in a "light-colored car." (Peery testified it was a black car.)

The sister said Peery upon his return complained of a headache and retired about 7 p.m., after talking with his mother by phone.

Mrs. Marzetta Carter of 249 So. 1st testified she talk with her son about 10 minutes before seven.

This testimony was backed by Charles "Slim" Baldwin of 1041 C, who said he was at his ex-wife's house from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m.

However, the prosecution brought out that Baldwin had told Detective Clarence Schwarz he didn't arrive until 7:30 p.m.

Rail Strike In Britain Threatens

LONDON (AP) — Railway union leaders rejected a government wage award Wednesday and threatened to add another nationwide strike to Britain's labor disputes in the shipbuilding and heavy machinery industries.

The railroad strike threat developed 24 hours after 2½ million factory workers received union orders to begin a "snowball" walkout next Saturday in manufacturing plants throughout the nation.

Britain's 70 shipyards already are closed by a walkout of 250,000 men. The shipbuilding strike forced a delay in the sailing of the liner Queen Mary for New York.

Unions are demanding a 10 per cent pay rise for workers in all three industries.

A government wage tribunal studying the railwaymen's demands offered a 3 per cent increase. Leaders of the 370,000-strong National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) immediately turned it down as an "insult."

New Offer Seen

TOKYO (Thursday) (AP)—The newspaper Yomiuri said Japan would offer Indonesia shortly a new war reparations plan calling for Japanese payment of 550 million dollars over a 10 to 15 year period.

There was no immediate comment by the Foreign Office on the report.

Commission OKs One-Way Perimeter Streets

Traffic System Would Circle Business Area

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The Traffic Commission has approved the recommendation of George Barton for a perimeter system of one-way streets around Lincoln's central business district.

They also went on record in favor of the Chicago consulting traffic engineer's recommendation for elimination of angle parking in favor of parallel on O from 9th to 27th.

The one-ways under Barton's plan are Q and R on the north and K and L on the south. L will have to be extended east from 21st into Capitol Parkway at about 22nd.

The Commission meeting was also attended by representatives of the Planning Commission. Planning Chairman E. J. Faulkner told the group he felt both Commissions should make substantially the same recommendation to the City Council.

While there are theoretical and practical problems to one-way streets, Faulkner said, they offer the only practical solution to the city's traffic problems at this time. One-way streets were described by Faulkner as a temporary solution but the city does not have funds, he said, to go into any more extensive program.

The Commission took no action on that part of Barton's recommendation calling for an extension of the 16th-17th one-way pair to Perkins Blvd. and the channelizing of traffic at 17th and Holdrege.

Junior High Students Visit Local Government Offices

Freshmen junior high school students completing social studies classroom instruction viewed the practical operation of local government Wednesday.

The nearly 50 students visited various city government departments in small groups. One group learned the workings of the Lincoln School District with a visit during the morning with Superintendent of Schools Dr. Steven N. Watkins.

The day began at 9 a.m. with an address by City Personnel Director Ray Ramsay at the Pershing Municipal Auditorium. Then, in groups of six the students visited with Mayor Bennett Martin, Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, Finance Director Theo Berg, Public Works Director D. L. Erickson and Planning Engineer Douglas Brogden.

Another group spent the morning at Municipal Court with Judges John Jacobson and Richard O. Johnson.

Students who visited with Martin will attend the Monday meeting of the City Council while those who visited with Dr. Watkins will attend Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Education.

Reports on the morning meetings were made at noon luncheon of school and city officials at Millard Lefler Junior High School.

Nora Veerhusen, public schools junior high curriculum co-ordinator, said the program is the "culminating activity" of social studies unit.

$12 A Day

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate rackets inquiry witnesses are given a flat living allowance of $12 a day by the government.

The law provides for this per diem rate, out of which witnesses have to pay for their meals, hotel bills, taxi fares and other expenses of living in Washington while on the stand or waiting to appear.

Transportation from their home towns to the capital and back also is paid, with those from distance cities getting air fares provided for them.

State's Mutual Insurance Firms Open 61st Annual Convention

More than 50 members of the State Association of Mutual Insurance Companies were on hand Wednesday for the opening of the group's 61st annual convention in Lincoln.

Harry P. Cooper Jr. of Indianapolis, Ind., executive secretary of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, gave one of the principal addresses. He predicted it would be only a matter of time until there is a "farm owner's" policy to match the "home owner's" policy now being used in many urban areas.

"The broader protection against modern perils afforded by package insurance," he said, "seems to meet today's insurance needs. More important, policyholders seem to like and want such policies."

Gov. Victor Anderson, speaking at the evening session, predicted that his "hold the line" policy for a balanced state budget would become a reality. "I will fight for it", he told the insurance men and Legislature members, who were dinner guests.

Anderson gave his audience a detailed explanation of the sources and expenditures of state tax money, and warned that he was against any building by the state other than the absolutely necessary.

"We are very fortunate to have conservative legislators" the governor said, explaining the need for caution during drought years.

Insurance Director Thomas Pansing reviewed state legislation concerning insurance companies and assured the insurance men that "we have no intention of requiring a written examination for qualifications of insurance agents."

Speeches were also given by H L. Tinley, supervisor of insurance for Farmer's National Co. of Omaha and Dr. Curtis M. Elliott, University of Nebraska economics professor.

Reports were given by national convention delegate Charles C. Zimmerman of Battle Creek, association president C. B. Bull of Elkhorn, and by legislative committee members Dwight Perkins of Lincoln and R. D. Campbell of Omaha.

Participating in panel discussions were Willard Watson of Pierce, L. W. Eckwall of Blue Springs, Bull and Zimmerman.

Thursday's activities will include a talk on "Investments for Insurance Companies" by Byron Dunn, president of the National Bank of Commerce, a panel discussion and election of officers.

Blind Youths' Parents, Vic Plan Meeting

A group representing the Parents of Blind Children in Nebraska will meet with Governor Victor Anderson Thursday morning to discuss the state's institutional building fund levy.

The meeting was scheduled at the request of the members of the organization, whose children are students at the Nebraska School for the Blind at Nebraska City, a Board of Control institution.

Robert Ramig of North Platte, president of the organization, has said the group is concerned about the proposed division of funds under LB 30, the measure which would extend the building levy for another 10 years but reduce the levy from 1.10 mills to 75 of a mill.

The bill would reduce the allocation to the Board of Control from its present 45 per cent to 19 per cent of all the funds collected.

Ramig has expressed concern over the Board of Control's basing its estimate of needs for a four-year period instead of a 10-year period as other participating agencies have done.

The group also is opposed to Gov. Anderson's request that the mill levy be reduced to a half-mill and that a screening committee be established to pass on the proposed building.

Ramig contends there can be no more construction at the Nebraska School for the Blind in the next decade under current proposals.

With Nine Lives

Current effort to abolish the Nebraska State Trade School at Milford is by no means the first effort along that line, nor will it be the last. From almost the very beginning, the Milford institution has had tough sledding.

We are in no position to pass judgment upon either its weaknesses or its strength. We simply assume that in a state of more than a million and a quarter people, there is a place for a state-maintained trade school. We can't all be doctors, lawyers, dentists, engineers—or part of any one of the many professions that occupy the energies of such a large number of people. Some of us by reason of circumstances should be trained to follow a trade—not only to follow a trade but in following it, being capable of turning in the best job.

In less than half a century the objectives and purposes of education have changed so greatly. More and more the emphasis has been placed on the professional field. We need so many more engineers, it is said. We're falling behind Russia in the race for scientific training and for graduates skilled in the sciences so as to be able to play their part in this world of the next hundred years, a world which we can only partially glimpse today.

But basically the question involved in the Milford Trade School reached back to the issue of whether provision should be made for training for the trades. Once again a Nebraska legislative committee answered the question in the affirmative.

Answer Would Be Welcome

It is evident from the differing positions taken by Nebraska public corporations on the Omaha-backed bill to permit such agencies to make donations to charities that a subject has been raised which calls for more thought than Nebraska has alloted to it.

An Omaha public corporation was brought under fire recently for making such contributions. The cause in the public mind was an acceptable one. The sum was not exhorbitant. There was a degree of logic in the corporation's explanation that it felt a community, a public responsibility to a degree beyond its specific service function. A bill, then, permitting contributions appeared in the legislature.

One can understand a public corporation's desire to be as serviceable to its community as private corporations are generally found to be. The latter contribute to worthy causes, support community chests, youth movements and any number of good things. Palpably the funds for this must come from the customer—the public. But reasonable contributions can hardly be called a hardship and indeed they do great good.

It would not necessarily amount to a consequential hardship were public corporations to live in the pattern of private concerns community-wise. But it remains an open question and is of sufficient public interest that it calls for a carefully thought out answer.

All To The Good

If Senator McClellan's investigating committee went no further with its probe of the Teamsters Union the country would still have a vivid example of how not to run something, especially a union. But as long as the committee is at it it may as well pursue its discoveries of impropriety to the full end.

It seems that here is an investigation that should be just as welcome, just as serviceable to union members as to the public at large. Perhaps the Teamsters Union has no built-in barriers against its officers dipping into funds for no-interest loans or of deciding, according to the moment, what constitutes an expense account, or of dragging the union's name into shady political action or private adventures on the part of men presumably in responsible roles in the union movement. But it doesn't take a set of written rules to define right from wrong and there is the inevitable presumption that men of such flexible ethics in union service may be equally flexible in their treatment of the union's public responsibility.

There never was an investigation or public act ever destructive to the investigated group if it led to the purification of the group. Rather than impairing the future of the Teamsters Union the McClellan committee is, in all probability, improving its prospects for longevity.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Gov. Anderson was discussing the speech by the guest of honor, Republican National Chairman H. Meade Alcorn, at the party's Founders Day gathering Monday. "He (referring to the national chairman) did a good job," the governor said. "He clarified a lot of things."

★

For a fleeting second, we thought the governor was having his little joke. Then to our horror, we discovered that Vic actually meant it. What he meant is left to the imagination of any individual reader, Republican or Democrat. What the definition and discussion of "modern Republicanism" by Alcorn meant to the individual Republican or Democrat could also be left to the imagination, and with that observation, let us pray that it is a man-sized imagination. Anybody who can stuff the memories of Abe Lincoln, William McKinley, Bob Taft, and Ken Wherry all in one sack, and come up with a block of adjectives, each one of glowing connotation to describe the mixture, is some boy, make no mistake about it. From the news stories we read that the new Republican chairman was a classy hurdler back in his college days. He may have been good then, but may we suggest that those watching him haven't seen anything yet. Anybody who can clear as many hurdles as he did here in Lincoln is in a class by himself, a champion, so to speak, who sails through the air with plenty to spare, not wholly unlike the man on the flying trapeze.

Some Misgivings And Doubts

But to get back to Gov. Anderson. As a Republican governor of a sovereign state, we suppose that in the very nature of things he was supposed to say something nice about a speech that started from nowhere, seemed to be aimed nowhere, and in all good season arrived nowhere. If the new Republican national chairman wanted to utilize the hallowed memory of Abraham Lincoln (he was founder of the Republican party in those years from 1850 to 1860), well and good — but for the sake of American youth, let's not confound Lincoln with William McKinley, Bob Taft, or the late Sen. Wherry. On occasions, we fear, in his enthusiasm and his exuberance, Wherry might have startled the traditionally somber, tragic Lincoln. In the proper spirit of generosity, let's confess that each sought to serve his fellowmen according to his lights, and let history itself pay fitting tribute to their memories. Now we come to the late William McKinley. He was, the Republican national chairman said, a modern Republican President apparently some 61 years before the real articulate spokesman for modern Republicanism took over the White House. The next time we meet Gov. Anderson, we intend to ask him just what all of that clarified.

★

Perhaps what we most need at this time of uncertainty and confusion is a smile. If we're not getting it, then it's our own fault. Every day in every way, it seems, the stage is set for a bigger laugh. The head of the Treasury tells us that all signs point to a depression that will curl our hair, rattle our teeth, and possibly bloody our noses. What does he do? He asks Congress to raise interest rates on a whopping national debt, a step that personally we think is long overdue, thanks to Republican monkeyshines, but nevertheless steps which will not contribute to curbing inflation. The old shell game was beautiful to behold. In operation the barker gaily cried: "Now you see it, and now you don't!"

Time Out For A Smile

★

In current national discussion, modern Republicanism brings back its memories. Now you see it—and now you don't.

Watch Y'r Manners

The pace of the cold war is being stepped up and Russia is again the aggressor. This time it is the field of good manners.

We tremble for the usually polite Americans. They are now up against a formidable adversary, one backed by its own claims of (in an unbelievably short time) taking over credit for all the important inventions in history, most of the poorly defended nations in their area, and filling the sky with bombers. We can just imagine what they will do in the field of good manners.

As usual, this Russian reform comes in the form of an official order: be "perlite" or be shot. The official book on etiquette pulls no punches. It gets right down to fundamentals. Take a bath at least once a week, or even oftener. Don't just get your shoes shined. Go all out. Change your socks once in a while. If you wear your pajamas at the dinner table, wear the top of them as well as the bottom. Wash your hands before you eat. Keep your nose out of the soup. Slice your bread. Don't bite chunks out of the whole loaf.

In event you want to brush up on other finer points of ettiquette before the battle of manners is joined you can go to the official Russian text—"For The Good Way Of Life." It was written by N. S. Gordyenko, student of philosophical sciences.

Russia's Tool

After taking a hard look at the train of events which set fire to the Near East, specifically in terms of Egypt-Israeli-UN relations, the Minneapolis Tribune sees Russia as the prime plotter.

It said: "President Nasser of Egypt may not be taking orders directly from Moscow, but he might as well be, considering the effect of his moves."

That is treating the subject with candor and it would be well if American statecraft approached it with equal frankness.

It is hard to explain why Communist armament went to Egypt in the first place if it were not to stir up war. And, war once under way, it is hard to explain why Nasser paid less attention to his military forces in the field than he did to plugging the Suez Canal. The latter served no defensive purpose, but once out of commission it cut the supply of oil to England and Europe and without adequate oil that section of the West lost most of its military impact. Egypt continues to flout the West and delays clearance of the canal which is its most available source of quick income.

As one examines these facts there is little in them of benefit to Egypt, but all of them serve Russia purpose to a nicety.

Ike's Protocol Is Inconsistent

WASHINGTON — There was a certain amount of diplomatic joshing about the manner in which President Eisenhower went to the airport to meet King Saud of Saudi Arabia, while refusing to meet other dignitaries. This question of who-meets-whom, however, is no joke in other world capitals.

It has been the topic of so much discussion that the British foreign office has sounded out the State Department informally as to whether Eisenhower would go to the airport to meet Queen Elizabeth if she visits Washington next fall. The implication was understandably clear that the queen would probably not come to Washington if she rated below the kind of a backward but oil-rich country where slave trading is still legal.

The question of who-meets-whom was also discussed inside British diplomatic circles in regard to the visit of President Eisenhower to Bermuda. It was even suggested, again informally, that Prime Minister Macmillan might arrive in Bermuda after the President, thus letting Ike be met by Foreign Secretary Lloyd.

The idea was, of course, discarded But the fact that it was even discussed indicates the extent to which foreign governments have resented the fact that such old friends of the United States as Winston Churchill were not met by Eisenhower while the King of Saudi Arabia was.

The British, incidentally, are not alone. The new Negro state of Ghana began taking its new-found independence seriously when Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah did not show up at the airport to meet Vice President Nixon. The excuse was the same one as that given by Eisenhower in the past — namely that Nixon was not head of a state.

The snub given by the Negro prime minister, incidentally, is sure to touch off chuckles in capitol cloakrooms, especially among old-line Republicans and southern Democrats who resented Nixon's sudden switch in favor of killing filibusters — a switch they said was inspired by a desire to win Negro votes.

ALCORN'S DEMO SKELETONS

He brushed it off with a press conference quip, but GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn apparently is embarrassed over Democratic skeletons in his family closet.

At a recent press conference, Dick Cull of the Dayton News asked Alcorn whether he was related to Dayton City Commissioner William Patterson, the recently defeated Democratic candidate for Congress last year.

"If we are related," cracked Alcorn, "he is so far away he got out of the Republican influence."

The fact is that Alcorn and Patterson are second cousins, and the GOP chairman knows it. Their families have kept in close touch, frequently visiting each other. Another cousin, Mary Beth Patterson, married another well-known Democrat, Dave Tarbell, county prosecutor for Brown County, Ohio, and onetime Democratic candidate for Congress.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S STILL

The tax-collecting Internal Revenue Service, never a mecca for sightseers, especially at this time of the year, is going in for tourist showpieces. The IRS public relations office has a hefty arsenal of firearms seized in raids, plus a big, potbellied still believed to have been owned and operated by George Washington. (It was perfectly legal in Washington's day. The still in question and many others like it were shipped from England.)

G.M. Methods Fail In Pentagon

WASHINGTON — In the Pentagon today, as in the State Department, a crisis of morale is taking shape, particularly in the career forces.

For one major reason, no administration figure can be blamed. This is an age of change in methods of warfare. The external threat posed by the technologically resourceful Soviet Union means that the change cannot be gradual and easy but must be brutally rapid. Thus people are being hurt.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson must, however, take responsibility for the fact that his system of General Motors vice-presidents is not working. He has come close to admitting it by abruptly telescoping two assistant secretaryships after he had failed to quell strife between the assistant secretaries involved.

Wilson could not abolish either job because they were created by statute. He is not likely to ask Congress to alter or even to amend that statute, since it was on his motion and, indeed, his insistence that Congress approved it.

If he now opens the door, he can be sure the senators will rush in with a good many questions, most of them embarrassing.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was Wilson's theory on arrival here that the Pentagon needed a good dose of business methods. He harangued Congress eloquently about the splendid shoal of vice presidents who helped him make General Motors so successful.

A few veterans were not so sure, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson being one who suggested that the government was a little different. But Wilson brushed him aside. The end result was that the Pentagon is now regally supplied with jobs of the rank of assistant secretary and above to the number 30—seven-and-a-half golf foursomes, as one wag put it.

World War II was run from the same building with about a third that number.

☆ ☆ ☆

General Motors vice-presidents are richly paid and do not mind the fact that the public doesn't know their names. Besides, General Motors pays a bonus when its operating companies make money, so it is to the interest of the vice-presidents in charge of operations to help each other swell the kitty. But the business of Washington is political power and prestige.

There just isn't enough of the special commodities around to furnish the Pentagon assistant secretaries with food for the ego to offset their $18,000-a-year salaries, relative obscurity and the Buicks assigned to their use.

Nor is there a profit motive in government to insure their close co-operation. Each year the problem of getting qualified men to fill the jobs has been harder.

The service experts, who do the work, have viewed all this with a sardonic eye. The salaries, small to big business, look pretty good to a career man in the military.

BOB CONSIDINE

Last Bermuda Parley Sterile

HAMILTON, Bermuda — The hard news that came out of the last Bermuda conference could have been engraved on the head of a pin by a palsied Spencerian penman.

The big question back in those remote days of December, 1953, seemed to be "Did President Eisenhower play golf today?" Jim Hagerty would glare at the questioner in such briefings and growl, "No, he did not play golf today." Then the fellow would ask, "Did he have a golf club in his hand, like for practice?" Hagerty would try not to be ill there in front of everybody in the press briefing room at the Castle Harbour Hotel.

The contrast between that conference and this is still striking, however, even if historians may have difficulty remembering either a generation hence.

The big formal question in '53 was Indochina. Georges Bidault, who was here as assistant to French Premier Joseph Laniel, who spent most of the time in bed ailing, assured one and all that Communism could be defeated in that part of the fading French empire with a few hundred million more United States dollars.

But the question that stands out in the memory of those briefings was whether Ike played or practiced or just swung. There was no way for reporters interested in such things to know, since they were barred from the grounds of the Mid-Ocean club — as they are this time — but now it would seem there are even more important things in life. Whether these matters can be solved here or light thrown upon them in way of news releases is doubtful.

The Eisenhower-Macmillan caterer is neutral, so to speak. He is Henry Goldsmith, imported from Vancouver, British Columbia, Point Gray Golf and Country Club to handle these esteemed appetites and take charge of service in general.

The chief is Paul Wirthlin, a regular at the club. His larder has been fortified with such extras as 68 pounds of fresh smoked British Columbia sockeye salmon and 78 pounds of grouse, pheasant, partridge and antelope. Most of special food was provided by oil millionaire Harold Siebens of Calgary. White House secret service men will make routine taste tests.

JESUS LOVED THEM

Andrew

"One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother." —John 1:40

Andrew, like his brother Simon Peter, was a fisherman residing in the town of Bethsaida on the shore of Galilee.

A follower of John the Baptist, by whom he was directed to Jesus, he at once recognized the Nazarene as the Messiah, and hastened to conduct Simon to Him.

In the Gospel lists of the Twelve he is always named among the first four who were called to discipleship.

The Scriptural narrative indicates that during Jesus's ministry, Andrew was a constant companion. He was present at the Last Supper; he was among the group of disciples to whom Jesus appeared after His resurrection; he witnessed the Ascension; and he shared in the glories of Pentecost.

Although he, like almost all the others of the Twelve, did not show open revolt during the trial and crucifixion of his Master, Andrew apparently did not lack courage.

Ancient writers say that he went as a missionary through Syria and adjoining countries, an undertaking which in those days involved not only the usual hazards of travel, but the likelihood of arousing the wrath of pagan rulers who mercilessly put to death the preachers of the new doctrine of Christianity.

Andrew's travels are said to have taken him through Thrace, Macedonia, Cappadocia, Galatia, Bithynia and Achaia. It is conjectured that he founded a church in Constantinople, but there is no conclusive historical record of his having done so.

Most historians agree that his career had its tragic end at Patrae, a city of Achaia. There the proconsul, Aegeas, outraged by Andrew's preaching, ordered him to offer a sacrifice to the pagan gods. The Apostle refused, whereupon the Roman governor had him scourged and crucified.

To make his death more painful, he was bound rather than nailed to the cross (commonly held to be the shape of an X). After hanging in agony for two days, he is said to have died on Nov. 30, A.D. 60.

Later he came to be revered as the chief patron of both Russia and Scotland.

Old Age Assistance

Broken Bow, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Grandma and Grandpa are on the spot again. State legislatures are in action and condemnation is the byword. We are denied even the privilege of being recognized as the parents of our children. Millions of our citizens are asking why this could happen in free America. Thirteen million grandmas and grandpas are asking why they are put on the state charity needs list.

Congress slammed the social security act through, then came back to its senses when it was too late. So it had to back-track on the amendment route in H.R. 7260 enacted by the 74th Congress. Billions of doilars have been spent through state legislatures in their efforts to comply with the misapplied law. Now the burden of taxes has caught up with them and great is the howl.

The only thing that will change the present system of old age assistance and satisfy the old age people would be the passing of a national old age pension. There is a commission to study the ever-increasing number of old people in relation to labor. But the subject has been commissioned to death.

Farm Plan

Dorchester, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For 25 years I have advocated a farm plan that would organize farming rather than subsidize it. I have decided if you can't have the whole pie, you should be satisfied with half of it.

On the theory that corn is worth $1 50 per bushel, I suggest that Uncle Sam give the farmers 75 cents per bushel for all the corn they raise, but require that they keep it and build their own bins and cribs to hold whatever amount they are not able to sell for $1.50 per bushel, based on a bushel quota.

Let them farm as many acres as they care to, but control the number of bushels they put on the market. This 75 cents per bushel is a gift. The farmer still has his corn and can supply the demand at $1.50 and have as large a reserve on his farm as he cares to build bins for.

Before many years they will see the folly of paying him that 75 cents per bushel, and we will have accomplished the feat of organizing farming.

High-Gear Spending

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I was happy to read in the news recently that Sen. Ray C. Simmons is aware of the dangers of this continuous high-gear spending I am sure our state officials will use equally sound judgment on the slum-clearance bill consideration.

The people who say that federal aid will pay the most of it should read the article in the Sunday Journal and Star, March 17, about Mr. Elton L. Berck. He says, "Federal aid of any kind is usually far from a gift and bears scrutiny, as most of it is paid in by the states in the first place, and often it is an influence for states to spend money for things they could do without."

There are still a few of us who are taught to be self-dependent, and would like a public vote on such an expensive project.

B. PETERSEN

SensibleRepresentation?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Recently in various statements and speeches, our congressional representatives professed great zeal in reducing governmental spending. But an examination will show they talk out of both sides of their mouths at once.

For instance, Rep. Phil J. Weaver went to great lengths to stop the transfer of the Veterans Hospital to the Air Force, even though the majority of the patients at the Veterans Hospital are those who could afford private care. Then, with a great amount of pride he announces that the Air Force is going to spend some $2½ million of taxpayers' money to build a base hospital plus a $50,000 dispensary at the Lincoln Air Base. Is that saving money?

Rep. A. L. Miller proposes to introduce a bill to establish a reclamation district for central Nebraska at a cost of $65 million. He proposes that it be a non-federal project—but he proposes to borrow the money from the government without payment of any interest. At the present time the government is paying approximately three per cent to borrow such money. That not only is not saving any money, but that is costing more taxpayer dollars.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis was among those who greeted the announcement of the Lincoln Air Base hospital with much chest-pounding, and was among those wailing at the wall over the transfer of the VA Hospital to the Air Force.

Furthermore, not too long ago it was revealed that it would be necessary to spend a huge amount of money to rehabilitate the present VA Hospital.

How much longer can an individual on a working salary continue to bear not only the burden of oppressive taxation, but the lack of sensible representation in Washington?

Sales-Income Tax Bill Debate Scheduled

. . . For Next Wednesday Morning On Legislature Floor

Next Wednesday is the date for the next Legislature floor debate on a proposed broadened tax base for Nebraska.

Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney proposed that date for consideration of LB 134, the combination sales-income tax measure, and the Unicameral agreed to make it the first order of business that day.

Otto is chief introducer of the bill, which combines a two per cent sales tax with a state income tax amounting to about 10 per cent of an individual's federal income tax.

A straight two per cent sales tax bill was killed earlier in the session.

Sen. Monroe Bixler last week set in motion a petition campaign to force a public vote next year on a constitutional amendment which would force the state out of the property tax field after July 1, 1960. The effect would be to make a sales or income tax almost mandatory.

Bixler has said he will drop the campaign, however, if LB 134 is enacted.

In advance of the new scrap over the sales tax, Senators Arnold Ruhnke and Kathleen Foote made known the report of a study asked for and received from the Legislative Council, relating to the amount of taxes paid on farm property as opposed to non-farm property in Nebraska.

No Way to Tell

In substance, the report said there is no way of determining tax valuations on strictly farm property in relation to non-farm property.

Claims that farm property owners pay 60.7 per cent of the total state tax are incorrect because the valuation claimed to be farm valuation includes properties which are not farm properties, the report said.

The property described as "farm" property includes non-farm residences outside city limits, grain elevators, radio and television installations, dehydrators, chemical plants and other industrial establishments, the report said.

IRRIGATION WELL REGISTRATION BILL GETS SENATORS' FINAL APPROVAL

The Legislature Wednesday passed 35-5 a bill requiring registration of irrigation wells in the state and the keeping of logs by well drillers.

The measure, LB 109, also calls for payment of a $7.50 fee for registration of wells.

Introducers were Senators Don Thompson, Frank Nelson, Peter Claussen, Hans Jensen and D. J. Cole.

LB 109 and a companion bill, LB 110, already signed into law by the governor, represent the first "controls" on Nebraska's groundwater resources. LB 110 governs spacing of wells.

Other bills passed on final reading:

LB 224—deleting obsolete sections of law relating to school land funds. (41-0).
LB 233—correcting statutes relating to escheats on real property. (40-0).
LB 232—revising interest rates payable on sewer assessments to conform to prior legislation. (41-0).
LB 229—eliminating statute reference to a law previously repealed on the subject of crimes and punishment. (42-0).
LB 157—providing that motor vehicles shall be registered in county where domiciled, except that non-resident persons or firms not domiciled in Nebraska may register vehicles in any county desired. (39-0).
LB 380—making property taxes due and collectable when a person takes steps to sell the property or move it away. (42-0).
LB 228—reconciling inconsistency in registration fees required on vehicles used by irrigation district for hauling draglines. (42-0).
LB 43—removing provision of law that deer or antelope hunter may receive permit only once in thee years. (41-0).
LB 243—Allowing election commissioner in counties of more than 60,000 population to appoint additional persons to counting boards for absent and disabled ballots. (40-0).

BILLS SIGNED

Gov. Victor Anderson Wednesday signed into law these bills:

LB 162—Resetting boundaries of the Niobrara Game Refuge.
LB 214—Changing the method of exercising power of eminent domain.
LB 249—Exempting certain insurance firms from restrictions and providing exceptions.
LB 301—Providing that a nonresident working in Nebraska must purchase Nebraska license plates and pay the state property tax after 30 days of continuous employment in the state.
LB 326—Authorizing the State Game Commission to acquire land for refuge and sanctuary purposes either by purchase, lease or other devise.
LB 393—Permitting rural power district directors to serve as directors also of other public power districts.

PIONEERS PARK GETS RED, WHITE LLAMAS

Two red and white llamas just added to the menagerie at Pioneers Park are cousins of the smaller, solid brown guanacos also found at the park.

The new breeding pair was obtained by Park Supt. James Ager from a private zoo in Southern California at a cost of $850.

The llamas, native South American beasts of burden, will be kept inside at least until Sunday as a precaution because of the change of climate. The animals can be seen Sunday, Ager said, if the weather is good.

For persons who like to feed animals, Ager reports the llamas are fond of fresh vegetables. While in with the deer in the north park pasture, the llama tires quickly of dry bread, Ager said.

Sales-Income Tax Bill Has Some PTA Support

OMAHA (AP) — The Nebraska Congress of Parent-Teachers Associations is supporting "to some extent" the combination sales-income tax bill (LB 134) despite the fact a statewide poll is not complete, Mrs. A W Koester, state president, said

A "statewide sprinkling" of poll returns, representing about one third of the membership, favored the sales and income tax measure "2 to 1," Mrs. Koester said.

MORE FAILURES

OMAHA (AP) — The rate of failure of subjects by Omaha high school students increased to 4.5 per cent the first semester this year and Supt. Harry Burke told the Board of Education an attempt will be made to determine the reason for the increase. The rates for the three previous years were 3.7, 3.6 and 4 per cent.

Mid-State Reclamation Bill Passes First Hurdle

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Mid-State Reclamation Project passed its first hurdle Wednesday in an effort to extend by one year the time the project's continuation will be put to a vote of the people.

The Legislature's Public Works Committee approved by a 6-1 vote a bill which would postpone the voting date from November, 1957 to November, 1958.

LB 527, introduced by Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, originally called for extending the election date to November, 1960, but Otto asked that the bill be amended to put the issue on the general election ballot of 1958.

Backers Concur

He told the committee he had received concurrence from the bill's backers to cut the extended time.

Otto's amendment was adopted by the committee by a 6-1 vote.

An amendment offered by Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island which would have put the project's continuation on the ballot in the primary election of 1958, was not acted upon by the committee.

Offering testimony on the bill during a three-hour public hearing, Lautenschlager said his legislative district takes in the greater part of Mid-State's population and assessed valuation and said he was offering the "compromise" amendment because of the "serious split" among his constituents on the matter.

Four Counties

The reclamation project involves Hall, Merrick and Buffalo Counties.

Proponents of the time extension told the committee that Rep. A. L. Miller has introduced a bill in Congress to authorize Interior Department assistance in the Mid-State Project.

They said if the bill is approved by this session of Congress, the appropriation required probably could not be made until the following session.

They stated that deferment of the election until Nov., 1958 would avoid a "state of flux" which would jeopardize congressional action.

The cost of the project was estimated at about $65,000,000 and it was reported it would involve about 500,000 acres of land including 140,000 acres of surface irrigation.

Another of the bill's proponents, Grand Island City Engineer E. H. Cordes, spoke of the need for the project and said that Grand Island's ground water elevation has "dropped 17 feet in the last 10 years and the quality of the water drawn for domestic purposes is now affected." He said they are drawing more minerals as the water level decreases.

From $12 To $65 Million

Opponents of the measure said taxpayers who have been supporting the district were promised the right to vote on the issue again this year. They said the project costs originally were estimated at $12,000,000 but that the estimate now has climbed to $65,000,000.

Albert Kjar of Lexington spoke for a group of 52 Dawson County landowners. He said that while Dawson County is outside the Mid-State district, a 16-mile canal will run through the county.

Kjar said their farm land will be damaged by seepage or by loss of water by drainage, not to mention loss of farm land by construction of the canal itself which will have a 200-foot right of way.

'Glorified Sand Pit'

The Lexington irrigator called the canal "a glorified sand pit" and a "gigantic engineering monstrosity."

Sen. Otto said the one-year extension will combine the Mid-State election with the general election and save the cost of a special election.

He objected to a vote at the primary on the grounds the turnout for primary elections normally is small.

Witnesses appearing in favor of the one-year extension included Oscar A. Drake of Kearney, Mid-State president; R. E Stephens, manager of the Grand Island Industrial Foundation; T. C. Reeves of Central City, Mid-State director; Arthur C. Johnson of Kearney, president of the Nebraska Reclamation Assn.; Norman McKeag of Grand Island, member of the Grand Island Industrial Foundation; E H. Cordes, Grand Island city engineer; Robert Mettenbrink, Grand Island farmer; Arthur Holmburg, Shelton; L. W. Solt, H. R. Lippincott, E. H. Phares, all of Central City, and Lisle Ferris, Archer.

Opposition witnesses included Leo Wyman, Gibbon; Robert Pullen, Central City, and George Van Winkle, Silver Creek.

Plan To Put 'Right To Work' Law Repeal To Vote Killed

The Legislature's Judiciary Committee Wednesday killed efforts to put on the ballot constitutional amendments repealing the so-called "right to work" law and providing for a veterans bonus.

LB 294, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter, was the ill-fated right to work repeal bill. An accompanying measure, LB 497, which called for the repeal of right to work legislation was also indefinitely postponed by the committee.

Both bills had been given a public airing before the committee on March 6.

Advanced to general file was LB 292, calling for a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Legislature to clear property titles of taxes and assessments unpaid for 15 years or more.

A similar amendment was rejected at the last election by a 206,000 to 194,000 vote.

LB 420, introduced by Sen John Munnelly, calling for a vote on a constitutional amendment for a bonus to veterans of the two world wars, was indefinitely postponed by the committee.

The proposed amendment provided only that, if passed, the Legislature should cnact "appropriate laws" for the payment of bonuses to the veterans. Munnelly told the committee that means of raising money for bonuses could be determined after a study of similar laws in other states.

None of the three measures given public hearing by the committee Wednesday, LB's 400, 292 and 420, were opposed at the hearing.

Other committee action included:

Amended and advanced LB 306, which forbids foreclosure on the strength of a tax lien on land wherein minerals are situated.

Killed LB 200, providing the rights of entry or re-entry for breach of conditions subsequent.

Advanced LB 390, which as amended by the committee forbids a person from driving for one year upon conviction of motor vehicle homicide.

Killed LB 239, making a district school board responsible for any damages, claims or demands made against school employees while the employees are discharging their duties.

Killed LB 297, providing that the costs in inheritance tax and appraiser fees shall be paid by owners of property described in the petition.

Advanced LB's 62, 143 and 270, expanding the retirement system to include county judges, workmen compensation court judges and district court reporters respectively.

Capitol Bridge Bid Low On South St.

The Capitol Bridge and Construction Co. has submitted the low bid of $44,649 at the City Hall for construction of a new crossing for South over Antelope Creek.

The city's estimate on the job was $45,000. Plans call for a widening of 18 feet.

The bridge will remain open during the widening but will be closed for about 30 days in June or July when its approaches are repaved.

The bridge is to be completed by July 1. The entire widening and repaving of South from 30th to 48th is to be completed by Aug. 15.

WESLEYAN PLANS TO STRENGTHEN MATH PROGRAM

Nebraska Wesleyan University Wednesday announced plans to strengthen its program of mathematics training for elementary teachers.

Prof. Joe Wampler, mathematics department head, said the program is being started because many educators "are alarmed at the way mathematics is becoming less popular in elementary schools."

Nebraska law does not require elementary teachers to have any content courses in mathematics.

But Wesleyan next fall will begin requiring a content course for elementary teacher candidates whose proficiency in the subject does not meet a required norm.

Public Worry Over Cancer Aids In Combatting It

WASHINGTON (INS) — A leading surgeon declared Wednesday cancer survival rates are higher than ever because the public is worrying more about the disease.

Dr. J. Garrott Allen, of the University of Chicago, acknowledged that Cancer Society fund drives, increased coverage of science in newspapers and other mass media have made the public hypochondriac—ever anxious about health and disease.

But he said this is all to the good, adding:

"It is better to be a live hypochondriac than a dead cancer victim."

New England And Texas Hit Hard By Spring Storms

CHICAGO (INS) — Tornadoes erupted in western Texas Wednesday and heavy snows hit New England as the weather punished widely separated sections of the nation on the first day of spring.

A broad low pressure area sprawled over the Rio Grande Valley into Arizona and spread a shower pattern that extended northward into Colorado and Kansas.

Severe thunderstorms and tornadoes were forecast in the western and some central portions of Texas. Significant rainfall was measured in the drought-ravaged southwestern areas with a half inch or more scattered from Arizona into the Texas panhandle.

Edwards Files For Education Board Post

Edwin E. Edwards, 37, Havelock restaurant owner, has filed as a candidate for election to full term on the Board of Education.

Edwards said he believed that "with the present level of taxes, teachers salaries could be raised if funds were properly appropriated. If elected, I would also emphasize a program for special education of the mentally-retarded and mentally-gifted children."

Married and the father of three school-age children, Edwards lives at 3301 No. 46th. He was born in Lincoln but moved away with his parents in 1936, returning after service in the Navy and business in Columbus, O., to purchase the restaurant here in 1953.

He is now president of the Havelock Lions Club, past treasurer of the Havelock Businessmen's Association and now that group's representative in the Northeast Communities Council and treasurer of Cub Scout Pack 1. He is a member of the Havelock Methodist Church, chairman of the church bowling league and a sponsor, with his wife, of the Methodist Intermediate Fellowship youth program.

He is a member of Odd Fellows No. 244.

Drive Endorsed

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China's 600-member political consultative conference endorsed a government drive toward heavy industry at the expense of more consumer goods.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH FORECAST FOR BASIN

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri River Basin Inter-Agency Committee was told Wednesday the Basin "could become as live with traffic and industry as the Ohio River Basin."

The speaker at the opening session of the two-day inter-agency meeting was Alex S. Chamberlain, vice president of the Ashland Oil & Refining Co. of Ashland, Ky.

"The phenomenal increase of traffic on the Ohio River and the massive growth of industry along its banks," he said, "does not prove that a similar growth will necessarily develop in the Missouri Valley when your navigation project has been completed.

9-Foot Channel

"However, it should be encouraging to citizens of the Missouri Valley that the growth of modern river traffic and industry on the Ohio did not commence until a nine-foot channel had been established."

Chamberlain said that with the Missouri project scheduled for completion from the mouth to Kansas City in 1962 and to Omaha and Sioux City a few years later, "it is none too soon to begin planning for the industrial growth of your river valley—encouraging the development of terminals, contacting industries and preparing plant location and transportation cost surveys."

There was little encouragement from speakers as to the end of the drought affecting parts of the basin.

R. L. Nace, assistant chief of operations, water resources division of the U.S. Geological Survey, said it was too early to say how severe or extensive the current drought is.

4.1% GAS RATE HIKE IS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., Inc., Phillipsburg, Kan., is seeking a $650,000, or 4.1 per cent, annual wholesale natural gas rate increase.

The Power Commission said the company proposes to make the rates effective May 1. They would affect eight wholsale customers in Nebraska. The company said the higher rates are necessary because of wage increases, high cost of materials and the need for a higher rate of return.

The company seeks a 6.7 per cent rate of return instead of the 6 per cent on which its present rates are based.

Reds Win Control Of Indian State Legislature For First Time

NEW DELHI (AP) — Communists have won control of an Indian state legislature for the first time. It was the hardest jolt to Prime Minister Nehru's ruling Congress party since the country became independent.

The Reds scored their victory in Kerala, a new state established last fall on the tropical Malabar coast of southern India. Kerala's 13½ million people are crammed 800 to the square mile, and unemployment is a perennial problem.

The Communists professed to be on their good behavior and promised to govern Kerala according to the Indian Constitution.

Returns from India's 19-day second national election, as added up Wednesday, gave the Communist party 59 seats in the 126-member legislature and 5 seats to independents pledged to support the Communists.

Congress party candidates had 42 seats, Socialists 9, the Moslem League 8 and a non-Communist Independent 1. Two districts still were unreported.

Popular Vote

The Congress party ran ahead in the popular vote—1,900,000 to the Communists' 1,719,000 — because the Congress candidates drew bigger majorities in the areas where they won seats than the Communists in the Red strongholds.

Associates said Nehru was unworried.

His party held a big lead in the election for a national Parliament and in most other state legislatures.

The new Communist stronghold was an independent Dravidian kingdom for 13 centuries beginning 200 years before the birth of Christ. Most of Kerala was contained in the old Travancore-Cochin state before the government redrew state boundaries last fall.

The old Travancore-Cochin state was the first Indian state to have a non-Congress party government —a coalition headed by the Praja Socialists.

The Communists cut heavily into the Socialist vote in capturing the state legislature.

The nationwide popular vote totals showed the Congress party candidates for Parliament running almost 10-1 ahead of all other parties combined.

With 329 of the 494 seats in the lower House decided, the Congress party had won 251 for a majority and was certain to take more. Others elected included Communists 10, Praja Socialists 10, Jana Singh 1, Independents 17 and local parties 30.

'ART' BY CHIMPANZEE BARRED FROM SHOW

SAN FARANCISCO (AP) — A special jury decided 4 to 3 Wednesday that Baltimore Betsy, the painting chimpanzee, cannot exhibit with human artists at Berkeley this June.

"We are indebted for the interest and humor afforded by Betsy's experiments with canvas," the jury said in a statement. "These we find, however, are a curiosity.

"As such, they cannot be exhibited with the serious creations in many art forms which will be exhibited at the Berkeley sidewalk art show at Sather Gate in June."

$72,000 STATE, FEDERAL FUNDS ALLOCATED TO SCRIBNER AIRFIELD

The Nebraska Department of Aeronautics announced Wednesday $72,000 in state and federal funds have been allocated for construction of facilities at the Scribner, Neb., state airfield.

The funds—divided evenly between the state and federal governments—are for the construction of an administration building, taxiway and runway lighting.

Rolland A. Harr, director of the Aeronautics Department, said the commission also made the following allocations:

Alliance Municipal Airport at Alliance—$30,000 in state funds to be matched with an equal amount of city funds and $47,000 in federal funds for the construction of an administration building, utilities, parking area and airport access road.

Gothenburg Municipal Airport—$3,500 in state funds to be matched by an equal amount of city funds and $7,000 in federal funds for the extension of the northwest-southeast landing strip, land acquisition and clear zones.

Omaha Municipal Airport—$9,700 in state funds to be matched by an equal amount of city funds and $19,400 in federal funds for the construction of a lighted wind indicator and connecting taxiway between the north-south taxiway and the light-duty parking apron.

The previous allocations for acquisition of clear zones at the Omaha airport were reduced by $2,250 in state funds and $4,500 in federal funds.

O'Neill Municipal Airport—The original state allocation for $3,000 was increased to $3,300 in state funds and the federal funds were increased from $6,000 to $6,600 for the construction of an administration building.

Sargent Municipal Airport at Sargent, Neb.—The original state allocation for $2,500 was increased to $2,750, and the federal funds were increased from $5,000 to $5,500 for the installation of runway lighting.

PARTY FOR TRIO OF HONOREES

A guest, a bride-elect and her fiance were honored on Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. John Unthank were host and hostess at an "after 6 o'clock" party at their home.

The guest was Mr. Unthank's sister, Mrs. George Underwood of Gainesville, Va.—the bride-elect was Miss Barbara Stephens whose fiance is Jerry Solomon.

Among the guests at the fun affair were old friends of Mrs. Underwood (the former Phyllis Unthank) and a group of friends of Miss Stephens and her fiance.

Around The Town

BY NO means could we say that our trek around town this ayem was a total loss as far as news is concerned although our efforts seemed to do more for our little red book and the future than the day at hand.

We do, however have news which, for the most part, has to do with homecomers—

* * *

WE learned, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. John Van Bloom returned home Tuesday evening from a three weeks holiday spent at Miami Beach, Fla., and Nassau.

* * *

AND also back in town is Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel who spent several days in Wichita, Kan., as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Chesen and their family

* * *

BUT there also are travelers in the news—Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Barbara Turner who is a United Air Lines stewardess, left the past week-end for Hawaii where they will spend several days. The travelers plan to return to the Mainland—and home—in about 10 days.

* * *

ON the guest list, as of this morning, will be Miss Marilyn Shope who comes from Missoula, Mont., where she is a senior at the University of Montana, to spend her spring recess with her aunt, Mrs. William Avon Fraser, and Mr. Fraser.

* * *

MORE news of the Fraser family involves Mr. and Mrs. Fraser's new grandson, Daniel Allan Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brent Drummond of Bakersfield, Calif., who arrived on Tuesday, March 19.

Mrs. Drummond is the former Dorothy Fraser daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Avon Fraser, and prior to attending Grinnell College, from which she was graduated, she was a students at the University of Nebraska, and a Gamma Phi Beta.

TO RESIDE ABROAD

It only is a matter of days now until Mrs. Roger Warner and the two Warner sons, Mart and Mack, will be leaving with Lt. Col. Warner for England where they will reside during Col. Warner's tour of duty with the Seventh Air Division.

The Warners, incidentally, will be residing near London, but we're guessing that any spare time the Warners may have will be spent traveling.

In the picture are Mrs. Warner, Mart (right) and Mack.

Suburbia

It has been a busy week for busy residents out in Eastborough. We will take time to say "good morning" and be on with the news!

Visited a few moments with Mrs. Stanley Bird and learned that Mr. Bird's mother, Mrs. William Bird of St. Joseph, Mo., was a recent visitor in Eastborough. Mrs. Bird extended a neighborhood get - acquainted courtesy to her mother-in-law on Thursday morning, when the guests for coffee were Mrs. Dal Miller, Mrs. Vaughn Geriman Mrs. Ralph Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rust were host and hostess at an informal bridge party on Sunday evening in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. Guests for the bridge gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talbot.

Neighborhood courtesy was extended to Mrs. James Bookhart last Wednesday when Mrs. Jesse Haith entertained at a coffee in her honor. On hand for the morning chat besides Mrs. Bookhart were Mrs. Stuart Mount, Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Merle Hahn, Mrs. Weldon Burt, Mrs. Robert Hartsock and Mrs. Joe Ritter.

And we're sure there have been several "welcomes" extended by neighbors of Mrs. and Mrs. James Bookhart and Jim since they have resided in their new home at 519 Northborough Lane. The Bookharts moved into their home on Friday, March 1.

A birthday honoree this week was Miss Donna Shilling who was entertained by her mother, Mrs. Darald R. Shilling on Tuesday afternoon. Five guests arrived at the Shilling home after school for the afternoon's fun entertainment.

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Loren Nelson, Marcia and Lynn decided it was time for a weekend vacation, so they packed their bags and were off! It was last Friday when the decision was made to spend a few days with Mrs. Nelson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Allington in Hastings and with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Carlson, Sherry and Brenda in Funk. The Nelson family returned to Eastborough on Monday.

It was the first of March when neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Likes, Janet and Jimmy bid farewell to the family. Heard they are new settled in their new home in Philadelphia, Pa.

The busy "Busy-Beaver" Blue Birds in Eastborough will join other Blue Birds in the city on Friday evening for their Fly-Up ceremony at St. Paul Methodist Church. Leader of the Busy Bees is Mrs. G. E. Robison who is assisted by Mrs. E. J. Marty. The group of Blue Birds will be promoted to Camp Fire Girls during the ceremony.

Mrs Hansen will be honored by the chapter at an informal supper Sunday evening at the chapter house, and on Tuesday morning, she will be the guest of the alumnae advisors at a 10 o'clock coffee, to be held at the home of Mrs O. J. King.

More than 200 members of the Pershing Mothers Club were entertained at a style show Tuesday afternoon at the group's regular meeting held at the school. Britain Military Cut Plans Eyed By Ike, Macmillan

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) U. S. officials said Wednesday night President Eisenhower's talks with Prime Minister Macmillan are expected to concentrate in early stages on Britain's plans to cut its military strength at key points in the world.

The United States realizes, officials said, that Britain has great financial and economic problems which may force cuts. But the American concern, they added, is for the effect these will have on free world defenses.

These informants were unable to say whether the United States might have to "take up the slack" at any point as a result of cuts in British strength.

The United States officials predicted that the matter of Britains planned reductions would be one of the most important items on the Eisenhower-Macmillan agenda. The main purpose of the session Wednesday night was to try to reach agreement on subjects to be discussed and the order in which they will be brought up.

Top of Agenda

Experts agreed that new tension in the Middle East and efforts to find a long term solution to the Suez Canal problem also will be at the top of the agenda, along with British military reductions.

Also seemingly assured of a place in the talks is Britain's new conditional offer to release Archbishop Makarios in a move to produce a solution through NATO of the long-standing row over Cyprus.

Officials said they look for Eisenhower to seek from Macmillan plans for a reduction of military strength in West Germany and at other key spots such as Korea, Malaya and Singapore in the Far East, and Libya in the Middle East.

The prime concern of the United States, they said, is to make sure reductions do not weaken the free world's shield of defensive strength against possible Soviet aggression.

Review

The North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) Council now is reviewing the situation as applied to British cuts in Germany and is expected to report shortly. The review will take into account Britain's Western European Union (WEU) agreement to keep four divisions and a tactical air force in West Germany.

Other subjects reported likely to come up at the talks include the situations in Poland and Hungary, the plans of European nations for the development of atomic energy, the U.N. role in the Middle East and the Soviet threat in the Middle East and Africa.

The extent of U.S. support for the Baghdah pact also was expected to be discussed. Britain is a pact member along with Iran, Iraq, Pakistan and Turkey, and the United States already is committed to considerable support of the alliance.

Voting Age Bill Remains Dead

Veterans' Groups Send Complaints

The Legislature Wednesday decided to let stand the Government Committee's decision to kill a bill calling for lowering of the voting age from 21 to 18.

Sen. August Wagner moved to revive the measure, LB 27, but the Legislature refused by a 17-17 vote. Twenty-two votes were needed.

Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, Government Committee chairman, had reported there had been complaints about the committee's action to kill the bill by a 5-2 vote.

Four Present

He acknowledged that only four of the seven committee members had been present when the bill was given a public hearing.

Sen Charles Tvrdik, introducer of the bill, read letters from spokesmen for the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, calling attention to the fact the 5-2 committee decision included votes of members who hadn't even attended the hearing and who apparently merely voted prior convictions.

In other action Wednesday, the Legislature by a 28-4 vote killed LB 275, by Sen. Stanley Portsche, which would have required that any applicant for veterans aid must have a legally established residence in the county from which application is made and aid is sought.

House Asks NATO To Admit Spain

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House passed a resolution Wednesday urging the admission of Spain to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The resolution, which expresses the sentiment of Congress but has no force of law, was approved by the House without debate. It now goes to the Senate.

Initiative Proposal On Ballot

HEBRON, Neb. — The Hebron City Council, meeting in a special session, passed a resolution authorizing City Clerk August Huss to place an initiative and referendum proposition on the ballot for the April 2nd city election.

If adopted the measure would give Hebron voters the right to propose city ordinances. That authority is now vested solely in the mayor and City Council.

The proposa' would stipulate that the voters could exercise initiative rights through a petition signed by 15 per cent of their number for a general election or 20 per cent for a special election.

Also included would be referendum provisions giving voters the right to petition the city clerk to submit to a vote any ordinance passed by the mayor and council. The referendum privilege would be required to be submitted within 30 days of enactment of the ordinance.

The measure would also give the mayor and City Council the right to place proposals on the ballot.

Historic Dawes County Tree

Pictured is the Grand Council cottonwood tree located five miles east of Crawford on Hwy. 20, the site in 1875 of negotiations between Sioux tribes and a U.S. government official over the sale of the Black Hills to the United States. The ancient cottonwood is one of the future projects of the Daughters of the American Revolution as a state historical marker. The Council between 20,000 Indians and a government delegation protected by a company of cavalry from Fort Laramie ended in failure. Some of the tribes were willing to sell their lands, but others objected and the delegation reported failure to make the purchase. (Photo Special to The Star)

Citizens Opposing One-Ways

By HAROLD H. HARTLEY

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — Grand Island has no special issues which will appear on the ballot for its April 2 city election, but the life or death of one special issue may be at stake when the voters go to the polls.

That issue concerns a system of one-way streets which has been voted in by the present City Council.

The system has been violently opposed by some Grand Islanders and an injunction suit has been filed.

Mayor E Merle McDermott, Grand Island attorney who has held office for the last year, is being opposed by Dr. Frank Ryder, a longtime physician here and former state health director.

Floyd S. White, city clerk here for many years, is being opposed by T. W. (Ted) Skiff.

Only candidates without opposition are Incumbent City Treasurer Sigurd Johrde and Incumbent Police Judge Arthur C. Mayer.

Murder Charge Filed In Bayard Shooting

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (AP) — Morrill County Attorney J. C. Conover filed a second degree murder charge Wednesday against John Williston, Bayard night marshal, in connection with the fatal shooting of Jacob Pretty Cloud of Pine Ridge, S. D., Dec. 25.

The action followed the ruling of District Judge C. G. Perry of Gering, denying a petition for a grand jury investigation into the shooting of Pretty Cloud.

Williston had testified he fired when Pretty Cloud ran after being stopped for questioning and a coroner's jury held the marshal had not committed an illegal act.

Conover said the petition for a grand jury investigation was filed Dec. 28, the day after the coroner's jury returned its findings and "before I could complete my investigation. I felt that a crime had been committed and that I should prosecute but I couldn't proceed until the petition was ruled on."

He said there was no point in taking action until the grand jury request was ruled on because the grand jury would be the ones to make the charge.

The petition asking a grand jury investigation were resisted by another petition signed by persons who held grand jury investigation was unnecessary.

In denying the motion for a probe Tuesday, Judge Perry said "there is an entire absence of suggestion, implication or showing of record that all criminal violations concerning the matters mentioned in the petition have not been fully and adequately prosecuted and investigated by regular law enforcement officials of the state and county."

MILLER BOOSTS POWER LINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Miller Wednesday said the Mid-State Reclamation District and the proposed 230 kilowatt power line to Grand Island from Ft. Randall Dam are "investments in the future of America."

"A few of my friends have asked me how I can strive for reduction in the budget and still work hard for projects in Nebraska such as the Mid-State and the line from Fort Randall to Grand Island," Miller said.

"These are not new projects," he said. "They have been in the mill for a long time," he said. "They are not money-down-the-drain projects such as foreign aid."

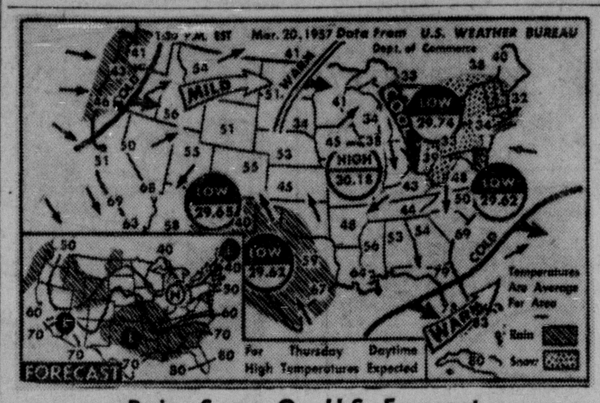
NOT TOO OLD

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (INS) —Some people never learn.

An 85-year-old North Platte man, twice paroled because of his age, has finally been sentenced to 80 days in jail on a bootlegging charge.

Tracy Van Valkerberg was sentenced in District Court after his arrest by a North Platte officer who purchased a half pint of Whiskey from him with marked money.

He had been paroled on bootlegging charges when he was 79, and again when he was 83.



Rain, Snow On U.S. Forecast

Rain with thundershower activity was predicted in the central gulf area, lower Mississippi Valley, southern plains and south Atlantic states Thursday afternoon. WEST POINT TO RECALL BEGINNING

WEST POINT, Neb. (AP) — In March, 1857, members of the Nebraska Settlement Assn. braved flood-swollen streams to reach the beautiful Elkhorn Valley and establish the community of "New Philadelphia."

The name was picked by Uriah and John J. Bruner, Omaha members of the association who had originally come from Pennsylvania.

The community, renamed West Point, will recall its beginning a century ago in a school pageant during the annual Gradesta next Friday evening.

Two hundred forty elementary school children will take part. Such things as the county seat fight between De Witt and West Point and the coming of the railroad will be depicted.

The narration for the production was written by Mrs. Margaret R. Dewald. Roger Weitzenkamp will read it.

RAF OFFICER HONORED; LANDED PLANE FULL OF LEAKING FUEL

OMAHA (AP)—An RAF exchange officer who successfully landed his 8th Air Force tanker with leaking jet fuel sloshing about in the fuselage was made a member of the Strategic Air Command's "heads up flying club" Wednesday.

The citation was given Flight Lt. (Capt.) A. E. M. Barton of London to Thule, crewmen were wading knee deep through fuel. They cranked down the landing gear manually and all but Lt. Barton and his co-pilot, First Lt. C. M. Nichols of Billerica, Mass., parachuted to safety.

By this time the battery powered lights that illuminated the cockpit had failed and Lt. Nichols held a flashlight on the instrument panel while Lt. Barton landed the plane.

Nebraska News

by Brig. Gen. David Wade, SAC chief of staff.

SAC headquarters said Lt. Barton, a KC 97 tanker aircraft commander with the 26th Air Refueling Squadron, Westover AFB, Mass. was flying a night mission over Greenland recently and had just made contact with a receiving plane when the crew smelled jet fuel fumes.

The tanker quickly broke away from the receiving plane and the crew discovered that jet fuel was pouring into the lower compartment of the fuselage through a rupture in the inter-connect line.

By the time the plane got close

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Always figured Clarence Darrow's smartest move was not bringing his clients into court.

☆ ☆ ☆

Darrow did it at Chicago in 1924 and he did it at the Tennessee monkey trial in 1925.

The Chicago business pops forth again with a couple of people writing books 33 years later. All we have left of the monkey trial is a fine drama "Inherit the Wind."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Leopold-Loeb affair also whips up a storm every too often. We always figured that the parents of the victim had left a trust fund to combat future attempts at parole.

☆ ☆ ☆

Fact is we mentioned it several times in the past. About 10 years ago International News investigated without results. Seems that no such fund existed.

☆ ☆ ☆

We had plenty of fun with Darrow, William Chinnings Bryan, the judge and the monkey.

☆ ☆ ☆

But the line we like best was, "The immaculate Dudley Field Malone came into court carrying a gold-headed banana stalk."

Memphis State Coach Bidding For Next NIT Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — The upset-studded National Invitation Basketball Tournament enters the semifinal phase in Madison Square Garden tonight and the Memphis State coach thinks his team may add to the rash of surprising results.

"You're always in a better position when you're the underdog," said Bob Vanatta, who in his first season at the Tennessee school, piloted it to a 21-5 season record.

Memphis State, which advanced to the semis by beating Utah 77-75 and Manhattan 85-73, meets St. Bonaventure in the opening game of the NIT's doubleheader. Bradley and Temple clash in the second game. The winners face each others for the championship in a nationally-televised game (CBS) Saturday afternoon.

The latest odds show St. Bonaventure favored by 2½ points over Memphis State and Bradley 3½ points over Temple.

"St. Bonaventure has a fine club," said Vanatta during a Memphis State workout at the Garden today. "They're defensively sound and aggressive. I saw both their games (against Seattle and Cincinnati) and they were very impressive.

"But we should win if we play the way I know we can. We certainly have not looked as good here as we did most of the time in the regular season. Our general over-all play has been a little sloppy.

"One of the reasons, I think, has been the fact that we had too long a layoff. We did not play for two weeks until our first game in this tournament. Of course, we had some workouts but that's nothing like an actual game."

St. Bonaventure has been one of the real surprises in the 12-team competition. The Olean, N.Y., five knocked off top-seeded Seattle 85-68 Monday night after getting past Cincinnati 90-72 Saturday.

Vanatta would like nothing better than to play Bradley in the final. He coached at the Peoria, Ill. school for two years before going to Memphis State. He would not venture a prediction on the outcome of tonight's second game, but like almost everyone else, he's impressed by Guy Rodgers, the Temple star, who tossed in 26 points as the Owls eliminated Dayton 77-66 Tuesday night.

"He's outstanding and Bradley may have its hands full with him," said Vanatta.

Temple, however, will have to contend with a team that broke three Garden scoring records in beating Xavier of Ohio 116-81 Tuesday night Bradley's record high included most points in a game, most points in a half (72) and most successful free throws (42).

Alma's Late Surge Nets Top C Rating

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Alma, overcoming a mid-season loss to Hastings St. Cecilia, rules the roost in The Star's final Class C high school basketball ratings.

The state tournament champs displayed class and good balance in compiling a 24-1 record. Seven of the victories came under pressure of district, playoff and state tournament competition.

Coach Harry Dowell's Cardinals replace Geneva as the Class C kingpin. Geneva reigns in Class B now.

Alma was seventh in the final pre-tournament ratings. Alma led until a mid-season loss to Hastings St. Cecilia, 67-51, then slipped in the chart.

That loss may have given the team the jolt it needed to get hot in tournament competition. A first five of Lanny Andres, Larry Parker, Lester Howsden, Don Noren and Dean Gregory impressed Lincoln tourney fans as a cool, well-coached unit.

Second is Trenton, which had a perfect record until beaten by Alma in the finals of a tough playoff.

This loss came the night after Trenton had played a 34-53 sizzler with tall Hastings St. Cecilia. Alma breezed past Big Springs and went into the finals considerably fresher than Trenton.

St. Cecilia is third ahead of state tourney runnerup Waverly. Waverly could be higher but for losses to Hickman and Cedar Bluffs.

Arnold, a state tourney team, is fifth. Arnold's three losses were at the hands of Waverly, Hildreth and Stapleton.

Oakland, which had a fairly easy path to the state tourney after slipping past Decatur in first-round district game, is sixth.

Arcadia, loser to Arnold in a district final; hot-and-cold Seward Concordia; Hay Springs, playoff victim of Arnold; and Scribner, upset by Clarkson in district play, round out the Top Ten.

Hildreth, Cedar Rapids, Clarkson and David City St Mary's dropped from the ratings.

Hildreth was blitzed by the few strong clubs on its schedule after the upset of Arnold. Cedar Rapids suffered from weak competition and was blasted by Arnold Clarkson took it on the chin from Oakland; a poor tourney showing chilled St. Mary's.

Other bidders for the Top Ten were Ceresco, Palmyra and Fairmont. Ceresco's schedule did not quite measure up; Palmyra and Fairmont played well on occasion but were defeated by lower-classification clubs.

Deer, Antelope Permit Bill Passed

A bill easing restrictions on issuance of deer and antelope hunting permits in Nebraska won final approval from the Legislature Wednesday.

By a 41-0 vote, senators okayed LB 43, which eliminates the requirement that a deer or antelope hunter may receive a permit no oftener than once in any three consecutive open seasons.

The bill carries the emergency clause which makes it effective on the Governor's signature. The bill, if signed, thus will apply to the 1957 hunting season.

Because of the previous restriction, the state last year had more permits than takers.

LB 43 was introduced by Sens. George Syas of Omaha, Le Roy Bahensky of Palmer, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Norman A. Otto of Kearney, and Mervin V. Bedford of Geneva.

AF Academy Accused Of 'Farming Out' Athletes

JC Schools Paid To Take Players

DENVER (INS)—Two Rocky Mountain area Junior colleges confirmed Wednesday some members of their championship athletic teams were part of a "farm" system for the Air Force Academy.

Officials of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M., and Pueblo Junior College at Pueblo, Colo., said members of their basketball and football teams were "prospective" Air Force Academy cadets who were turned down on application and sent to the two-year colleges for further training.

Walter A. Byers, executive secretary of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., said the NCAA has been asked to inquire into what he referred to as the "farm system" operated by the three-year-old academy.

Both NMI and Pueblo won conference titles in recent years, with Pueblo currently competing in the National Junior College Tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., as a fourth-ranked team.

Pueblo Junior College President Dr. Marvin C. Knudson said the college received a single check for about $9,000 covering full expenses for some athletes. He said the source of the check was a "solid and well-known foundation" which he said was not the Pueblo Booster Club.

Col. Carl J. Rohr, business manager of the New Mexico school, said the institute pays half the $1,300 tuition a year for each of the "prospective airmen athletes."

He said: "We expect that under the agreement they will pay the other half."

Asked to identify who he meant by "they," Rohr replied:

"Why, the U.S. Air Academy Athletic Association, I presume."

Jack Carberry, sports editor of the Denver Post, said he learned 11 of 13 players for Pueblo in the National Juco Tournament, and 20 New Mexico Military Institute football players were attending school with the announced intent of seeking appointment to the Academy.

Col. Robert Whitlow, Academy athletic director, said he knew "some" members of athletic teams at the two colleges had been designated for appointment to the Academy and had been turned down for academic or other reasons.

But Whitlow denied either the Academy itself or its independently operated and financed athletic association was paying tuition or any other fees for the boys.

The athletic association has some 18,000 members, each paying $2 a year dues to the Air Force Academy athletic fund.

Whitlow said: "I don't know, and I don't care to know" who was paying the freight for the athletes at the two junior colleges.

Yanks' Larsen Whipped, 20-6

Cincinnati Unloads In Perfect Pitcher's Start

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Don Larsen was pounded for six hits and five runs in his first appearance since his perfect World Series game Wednesday as Cincinnati drubbed the New York Yankees 20-6 in an exhibition featured by home runs by the Redlegs' George Crowe, Smoky Burgess and Jerry Lynch.

Larsen worked three innings and yielded Crowe's circuit blow, two triples, two doubles and a single. The Redlegs collected 43 total bases in all.

Al Cicotte and Jack Urban, rookie righthanders, followed Larsen and they, too, were unable to hold the Redlegs. Cicotte permitted 10 runs and 12 hits and Urban 7 hits and 5 runs.

Tony Kubek and Bob Martyn homered for the world champions, who were held to only one hit in the final five innings by winning pitcher Art Fowler. New York got all its runs off starting pitcher Brooks Lawrence.

Burgess and Lynch each had four safeties while Burgess drove in five runs and Crowe, Lynch and Don Hoak had four RBIs apiece.

Stuart Doubles In Pirates' 8-4 Loss

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers raked four Pittsburgh Pirate pitchers for 11 hits and an 8-4 victory Wednesday in a pre-season exhibition baseball game.

Charles Lau helped the Tigers' cause with a two-run homer in the fourth inning.

The Pirates jumped on pitcher Paul Foytack for three runs in the first inning but their attack wilted after that. Detroit evened the score in the third and went ahead in the fourth on Lau's homer.

Dick Stuart, Pirate rookie hitting sensation, got a double, batted in a run and scored another in the first inning In his next three trips to the plate he struck out twice and was thrown out once.

With Lindy McDaniel pitching for St. Louis, Gil Hodges opened the last of the 11th with his second single. Jack Roseboro ran for him and went to third as McDaniel made a wild pickoff throw to first base. Roseboro scored the winning run as catcher Hobie Landrith dropped Chuck Harmon's throw.

Ex-Husker Johnson Has No Regrets

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Bill Johnson ex-Nebraska center who is now playing his basketball for the amateur Peoria Caterpillars, has no regrets about forsaking a coaching career in favor of his present situation.

Johnson was on hand when the Peoria team of the National Industrial Basketball League played Kitlow Institute of Alma at the Pershing Memorial Auditorium Tuesday night before about 800 fans.

We spoke to old friend Bill, who prepped at Teachers High before his rags-to-riches career at Nebraska.

Bill, an easy-going 6-10er who changed boos to cheers as he progressed from an unsure sophomore to a steady senior pivot at NU, wouldn't trade his situation for a coaching job.

"I would have to be coaching at a pretty good small college to match the salary I am making now," Bill told us. And since he graduated from NU in 1954, it is unlikely that Johnson would have reached the college coaching level by now.

Players on the teams in the NIBL aren't paid for playing basketball They are hired partly because of their ability, but they must show an aptitude for a position with the firm that hires them.

Bill will finish his career as a player with the Caterpillar Tractor company at the end of this season.

He has gone through Caterpillar's training program and will be a purchasing engineer.

"Most players have a three-year career with Caterpillar. Some play four. But after that you are expected to have advanced to the point that your job takes more time and you can't travel around the country," Bill said.

Bill has just purchased a Peoria home for his wife and three-month-old daughter, and made it plain he will give up basketball as soon as this season is over. A knee injury may have helped Bill decide.

Lincoln fans who saw him score only five points in a part-time exhibition against Kitlow may have wondered about the knee-brace Johnson wore.

Bill explained that he suffered a knee injury early in the season after getting off to a good start, "probably the best start I've had." A long layoff and a recurrence of the injury followed, and Bill had played in only two games just prior to his Lincoln appearance.

Johnson spoke highly of the Auditorium and compared its portable floor to that in the Kansas City Auditorium and the one at Madison Square Garden. But he had one complaint.

"The green border around the edge of the basketball floor blends with the green concrete of the Auditorium floor and it's hard to distinguish the difference during a game. There is about a three-inch drop from the boards to the concrete and somebody could get hurt," he pointed out.

Civic Baseball Association To Elect New Officers Today

New officers of the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association will be elected Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce, according to President Emmett Junge.

They will be chosen by the newly-elected board of ten directors, consisting of Glenn A. Baldwin, Archie J. Baley, Wheaton Battey, John E. Curtiss, Victor E. Friend, Emmett Junge, John F. Lawlor, Merle Rathburn, Robert C. Russell and Charles 'Hungry' Simon, Junge said.

Baldwin, Battey and Russell pletely separate entity from Lincoln Baseball Club, Inc., which owns and operates The Lincoln Chiefs. Its primary function is to hold a "license" from the City of Lincoln to use Sherman Field, and to lease that ball park to The Chiefs, President Junge said.

"Naturally, all of us are baseball fans, and we do everything possible to assist the club in its big job of keeping a fine Western League ball club in Lincoln. The separate corporations are necessary in order to relieve city officials of burdensome details. On the other hand, the City Council and various city departments always have been more than cooperative with the whole Western League baseball project," he commented.

Baseball Directors Won't Reveal Plan

BELLEAIR, Fla. (AP) — Organized baseball has a definite plan of defense against pending bills which would make it subject to federal anti-trust laws. But the men who rule the game are not yet ready to reveal the details.

Greatly concerned by criticism of political leaders in Washington and charges that baseball is a business rather than a sport, Commissioner Ford Frick has called for a special meeting of major league executives Friday to map out strategy to combat almost certain congressional action.

"I have a plan to submit to the baseball representatives," Frick acknowledged Wednesday, "but it will be up to them to thrash it out with our lawyers."

Neither Frick nor any other executive would reveal baseball's plan of defense. An official, who did not wish to be identified, said grimly:

"It would be just like a team giving some of its signs away."

The meeting will be in strict secrecy and no announcement is expected to be forthcoming. Major league officials following the theme that discretion is the better part of valor, declined to voice their opinions on what the Friday conclave might produce. Many of them simply said they were in the dark about the whole thing.

"I don't know what form the meeting will take," said Warren Giles, president of the National League. "All I know is the commissioner wants to get the views of the 16 clubs as to what course they will follow with respect to legislation that is being introduced."

Three bills directed at baseball already have been introduced in Congress. On the day after the Supreme Court's decision ruling that professional football, in contrast to baseball, is subject to federal anti-trust laws, chairman Emanuel Cellar (D-NY) of the house judiciary committee introduced legislation to bring baseball under the anti-trust laws. It was Cellar who directed the investigation of organized ball in 1951.

Lakers' Coach Kundla Rehired

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Johnny Kundla was given a new one-year contract as coach of the Minneapolis Lakers pro basketball team Wednesday at a meeting of the Lakers' board of directors.

Kundla, who has guided the National Basketball Assn. team since it came here 10 years ago, also was named acting general manager for the same period. Salary was not disclosed.

The Lakers have been without a general manager since the former Minneapolis great, George Mikan, sold his stock in the team more than a year ago.

Hungarian Tennist Flees To Sweden

MALMOE, Sweden (AP)—Hungary's Agne Simon appeared in public here Wednesday after four days of hiding following a dramatic escape from the royal tennis hall in Stockholm only a couple of hours after she became world table tennis champion in doubles.

Agne, a brunette 21-year old slenderly built girl, asked the police for political asylum.

Later she told a newsman about her experiences:

"From the moment I decided not to return to Hungary I did not have one quiet minute. Now, looking back, I can't understand how I managed to play through the whole tournament."

Agne teamed with Livia Mosoczy last Friday in winning the doubles title from England's Ann Haydo and Diane Rowe.

Agne Simon is married. Her husband Lajos fled Hungary in November. He is presently working in a factory in Holland. They hope to be reunited in Sweden. As far as Swedish authorities are concerned nothing will stop them.

They will grant her asylum and him necessary visas.

NU Football Scrimmage Called Off

Due to improper playing conditions on the University of Nebraska gridiron, Coach Bill Jennings sent his Husker footballers through a normal workout Wednesday and cancelled a squad scrimmage that was originally scheduled.

No practice will be held today due to ROTC classes, but the gridders will resume work Friday with a possible scrimmage planned.

This week's work will wind up Saturday with a full-dress scrimmage set for the afternoon.

STILT NEEDS 99 POINTS TO WIN SCORING TITLE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas' skyscraping center, must score 99 points in the Jayhawks' two remaining games in the NCAA basketball tournament to overtake Grady Wallace of South Carolina and win the major college individual scoring title.

The Stilt's 66 points in two NCAA games in Dallas last week coupled with Elgin Baylor's 23 point showing in Seattle's NIT loss to St. Bonaventure, enabled Chamberlain to move into third place behind Joe Gibbon of Mississippi. Baylor dropped to fourth.

As of now, Wallace is on top with a 31.2 average. Gibbon is next with 30.1 points a game, Chamberlain third with 29.8 followed by Baylor's 29.7. To surpass Gibbon, Chamberlain has to score 67 points before the end of the NCAA competition.

Kansas meets San Francisco in one of the semifinal games Friday night while unbeaten North Carolina takes on Michigan State in the other. Wallace, Gibbon and Baylor have finished their year's work.

The defending champion Dons also can wrap up their third straight defensive title among major schools. Oklahoma A&M finished the campaign with a 54.6 points average yield for 26 games. San Francisco's performance in the NCAA tourney thus far has enabled it to deadlock the Aggies with exactly the same figures.

First Arizona Rainout Since 1952 Exhibtion

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs were rained out Wednesday, the first time in five years a Giant exhibition game in Arizona had been called off on account of rain.

The last time it happened was on March 16, 1952. On March 11, 1954, a game here was postponed because of a wind storm.

Infielder Daryl Spencer rejoined the club after flying home to Wichita for one day to attend to personal business. Still absent, however, were second baseman Red Schoendienst and bonus pitcher Mike McCormick. Both became fathers of baby daughters Tuesday. Schoendienst was in St. Louis and McCormick in San Gabriel, Calif.

Bev Phillippi scored 14 points, 10 of them in the first five minutes, to lead Lincoln Engineering past Seward Concordia College 33-28 in the finals of the Girls City League Class A basketball tournament at Southeast High Wednesday night.

Lincoln Engineering led 31-15 at the half, and coasted to its second straight title. High for the losers was Sherry Notwehr with 13 points.

Loss Of Two Dims NWU Cinder Hopes

Nebraska Wesleyan University track coach Woody Greeno's hopes for an opening outdoor dual victory were dealt blows from two directions.

The Plainsmen cinder crew, which opens its season at Kearney this afternoon at 2:30 p.m., will be minus the services of Loren Eigenberg, Fairbury senior and Lowell Gaitner, Falls City freshman.

Eigenberg, Wesleyan's 440 ace and anchor man on the half mile relay team, is out of action with the three-day measles.

And Gaither, listed as a top-notch distance prospect, returned to Falls City because of a death in his family.

Both men are expected back in action shortly.

Greeno will send a 30-man squad up against Kearney, the perennial NCC cinder champion.

Greeno rates the Plainsmen team strongest in the discus where Chester sophomore Larry Cook will compete and in the 880 with Gary Hofmann, Wahoo sophomore and Bill Worthley, Alliance sophomore ready to go.

Quarter-milers Dean Sell and Lefty Hixon, both of Lincoln, are also expected to make good showings.

Congressmen, Bell Huddle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League (NFL) huddled Wednesday with key Congress members to state pro football's case against governmental regulation.

Bell found support from House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts but evidently made no headway with Rep. Celler (D-NY), judiciary committee chairman who insists major league football and baseball alike are big business.

The commissioner, visiting from NFL headquarters at Philadelphia, talked with Martin, Celler and Rep. Harris (D-Ark), Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Sen. Clark (D-Pa), among others. He made an appointment for today with Rep. Keating of New York, senior Republican on the judiciary committee.

Bell came to Washington as a result of the Supreme Court's recent decision that pro football is subject to federal antitrust laws.

Rookie Stuart Confident He'll Stick With Pirates

FORT MYERS, Fla. (INS) — Two things never elude rookie Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder Dick Stuart—strikeouts and conversation.

Ask him a question and he is off and running, spilling out colorful prose dedicated to the merits of Dick Stuart.

He is the 24-year-old outfielder who has observers believing that they may be witnessing a rerun of the Ralph Kiner story. Stuart hasn't hit the ball too often. But when he connects, it's generally a homer.

Most of the time he swings and swings and generally ends up missing.

"What's the difference," he says. "An out's an out. Once last season a pitcher fanned me four straight times. The fifth time I hit a homer that won the game."

He sent 66 out of the park last season with Lincoln, Neb., in the Western League and was brought to the Fort Myers training camp, more to provide copy for reporters than from any belief he might make the team. Now there's talk that he can't be denied, even though he can't field a lick.

"One thing he has," explains General Manager Joe L. Brown, "Is power. I don't know of a club overstocked in that commodity."

"That's right," Stuart readily agrees. "People will come out to see me hit, not to field.; that's the way it was in the Western League and I tried to oblige. The strikeouts never bothered me."

Stuart is a tall (6-3) Californian who shrugs off predictions that he will spend next summer in Columbus or Hollywood.

"I am not a big league fielder, but I can hit like one. There's a lot of guys in the majors who aren't the best with the glove. I can make it with my bat."

When Ralph Kiner showed up at the Pirates camp 11 years ago in California, he already had been assigned to Toronto. But the likeable outfielder who went on to become Pittsburgh's "Mr. Slug," socked 13 roundtrippers in exhibition games and convinced then Manager Frankie Frisch that he could stick.

Kiner was a fielder with deficiencies like Stuart, who hasn't drawn a word of approval yet from Manager Bobby Bragan.

"Stuart told me," Bragan explained, "That it tired him out to shag flies before a game So I accommodated him and had someone bat fungoes after a game. Heck, after ten minutes he was ready to collapse. I don't think he has ever been in shape.

"That boy has a lot to learn about fielding. Don't know whether we can teach him. But we're gonna try."

Game Farm Bill Meets Opposition

A bill proposing to establish legalized game shooting farms in eastern Nebraska ran into opposition in the Legislature Wednesday.

Pending as the Unicameral adjourned for the day was a motion by Sen. Harry Pizer of North Platte to postpone indefinitely the measure, LB 176.

Introduced by Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, Le Roy Bahensky of Palmer and D. J. Cole of Merriman, the bill would permit the creation of controlled game shooting areas. A sportsman then could pay a fee to hunt pheasants and ducks raised and released on the game farm.

Sen. Moulton said many states already have such shooting areas, and bills to legalize them are pending in Iowa and Michigan.

The bill merely allows a farmer to set himself up in "a new business," Moulton said.

Sen. Pizer, whose efforts helped kill a similar bill in the legislature two years ago, told of opposition from Lincoln County sportsmen.

He described the bill as "capitalistic" in that it would allow hunting only by those who could afford the controlled shooting area privilege.

He referred to "feudal" days when only a select few were allowed to as much as touch wild game.

Pro Cagers Tangle Tonight In NBA Semifinal Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Nationals, who were in last place on Jan. 1 and have been celebrating ever since, take on the Boston Celtics and the Minneapolis Lakers meet the St. Louis Hawks tonight in first games of the National Basketball Assn. semifinal playoffs.

On New Year's Day, the Nats were in the Eastern Division cellar with an 11-17 record. Since then they've won 29 games and lost 17, a drive that enabled them to finish in second place and eliminate the third-place Philadelphia Warriors in two games in the playoffs' opening round.

The Nats' initial semifinal game will be played in Boston. The second game is booked for Syracuse Saturday afternoon in the national TV game of the week (NBC) and the third for Boston Sunday afternoon. Others, if necessary, will be played in Syracuse Monday night, March 25 and in Boston, Wednesday night, March 27.

Minneapolis also rallied strongly after the first of the year. They were in last place in the Western Division. Then, with a 20-20 mark in the rest of the campaign, they finished in a triple tie with St. Louis and Fort Wayne for the lead.

The Lakers bowed to St. Louis in a playoff for the divisional crown but knocked off the Pistons in two straight to qualify for the best-of-five competition against the Hawks.

Tonight's Lakers - Hawks game will be played in St. Louis, the scene also of Sunday's second game. The Lakers are the home club in Monday night's third game. A fourth, if necessary, will take place in Minneapolis Wednesday night and a fifth in St. Louis Thursday night.

During the regular season, St. Louis beat Minneapolis eight times and lost four. Syracuse holds a 7-5 edge over the Celtics.

The semifinal survivors will clash in a best-of-seven final round.

State Department Expects U.N., Egypt To Make Satisfactory Plan For Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) —The State Department said Wednesday the United States expects Egypt and the United Nations to make "a satisfactory interim arrangement" for running the Suez Canal at talks in Cairo this week.

This hopeful statement, by press officer Lincoln White, indicated at least three things:

1. The United States still looks to the United Nations for Middle East settlements despite strong pressures for U.S. action on its own to clip the wings of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser. These pressures included Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir's flying visit from Jerusalem to confer with Secretary of State Dulles last Monday.

2. The United States is officially saddened that Egypt has not accepted a U.S. supported plan for collecting future Suez tolls or reaffirmed the U.N.-endorsed "six principles" for future operation of the canal.

3. The United States reserves judgment on a six-point Egyptian proposal for running the Suez pending outcome of Nasser's talks at Cairo with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. And it regards the Egyptian proposals as the Egyptian starting point for these negotiations—not as a final plan to be accepted or rejected.

Dulles, reached at Washington's National Airport as he left for the U.S.-British Bermuda conference, was noncommittal on the Egyptian proposal.

A couple of hours later, White told his news conference:

"We expect that a satisfactory interim arrangement will be arrived at. Until we know that that is not the case we are reserving judgment on the Egyptian memorandum. It is not clear in our minds what is meant."

Persuasion

CAIRO (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold, due in Cairo Thursday on a new peace mission, probably will try to persuade both Egypt and Israel to proclaim nonbelligerency.

The U.N. secretary general, who left New York Tuesday, took a plane in Brussels for return to the Middle East, where he negotiated a temporary stoppage in border bloodshed last April.

Proclamations of nonbelligerency could end a state of war sustained since the Arab-Israeli Palestine warfare of 1948 and vastly simplify dickering in the months to come over Suez, Gaza and Aqaba Gulf issues that were magnified by the Sinai shooting last fall.

Israel probably would agree readily. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion has repeatedly proclaimed his readiness to talk peace with all his Arab foes, though warning that Israel would not stand for renewed Egyptian assaults from the Gaza Strip or interference with Israel shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Egypt's President Nasser will not agree — at least not without a long drawn argument. The state of war is the basis for the Arab boycott of Israel and any Egyptian bar to Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal and Aqaba Gulf.

Hammarskjold's first appointment will be with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. He will meet Nasser in the evening.

EFFICIENTLY

CAIRO (AP) — Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler said he is certain Egyptians will be able to operate the Suez Canal efficiently when it is reopened.

In Cairo to meet U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on his arrival from New York, Wheeler told newsmen:

"The Egyptians have darned good technicians. They have top-notch people in all phases of canal operation — mechanics, lighting, engineering. There's no doubt they'll operate the canal with full efficiency."

Confer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge conferred with Israeli Foreign Minister Mrs. Golda Meir on the crucial Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba issues.

The meeting, held at Mrs. Meir's request, dealt mainly with Israel's demands for the U.N. emergency force to control the two areas, pending a final settlement of the Palestine problem.

Leaves U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir left by transatlantic plane for Israel by way of Paris. She is due home Friday.

She came here Sunday for emergency talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and United Nations Secretary Dag Hammarskjold. Mrs. Meir said her talks with Dulles convinced her American and Israeli objectives in the Middle East are identical.

Emergency Meet

PARIS (Thursday) (AP) — Justice Minister Francois Mitterand had an emergency conference with Premier Guy Mollet on French relations with Tunisia.

Mitterand left celebrations of the first year of Tunisia's independence in a huff because leaders of the Algerian rebellion were invited to them.

Unicam Hearing Begins To Sound Like Senate Probe Of Teamsters

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Charges of "secondary boycott" and "hot cargo" clauses were thrown about Wednesday before the Legislature's committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

The committee was holding public hearing on LB 502 which would enable persons, corporations, labor unions or associations to collect triple damages in cases involving violations of state picketing laws.

At times, the hearing took on undertones of the Senate investigations into activities of the Teamsters Union now under way in Washington D. C. That investigation is being conducted by the Senate Select Committee on Labor and Management practices.

Like Senate Probe

Only Tuesday the Senate committee said it planned to look into the operation of the Teamsters Union in Nebraska.

LB 502 was held for consideration.

In leading off testimony backing the bill, Max Harding, Lincoln attorney representing the Nebraska Small Truckers Assn., said the bill was aimed at the secondary boycott, the "brainchild of people like Dave Beck and Jimmie Hoffa." Both are officials of the Teamsters Union.

Opposition to the measure came from Gordon Preble, head of the AFL-CIO in Nebraska, who said Hoffa was indicted for "doing something corporations have been doing for years — only he got caught."

Preble termed the allegations "smear propaganda" and said testimony given during the hearing "is not pertinent to this bill." He called LB 502 a "vicious piece of legislation" and presented an amendment which would make the new law apply to employers as well as labor unions.

Harding told the committee businessmen have been hurt because of not receiving shipments from truckers who were stopped from unloading cargo in non-union depots. He termed "hot cargo" and "secondary boycott" a "national disgrace."

An Ord trucker, Jack Roman, told the committee he had been the victim of a secondary boycott since May, 1956, which "cost a considerable amount of business."

'Would Boost Truckers'

State Sen. David D. Tews of Norfolk, backed the bill and said it "would strengthen truckers' position without particular interference with the Teamsters Union." The unions have nothing to worry about if they operate under present statutes, Sen. Tews said.

A Lincoln trucker Waldo W. Winter, partner of Winter Bros. Transfer, said the bill wasn't a "matter of not believing in organized labor." It was "against a means and method of putting us out of business."

The term secondary boycott usually applies to union members who refuse to handle goods and merchandise deliverd by non-union members Hot cargo is the term for this merchandise.

Preble said the "hot cargo" clause had been upheld by the National Labor Relations Board because it contained in contract agreements between unions and employers.

Opposition also was voiced by O. D. Menefee, Fairbury, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Trainmen.

NEWSPAPER AT NWU WINS FIRST PLACE

The Nebraska Wesleyan University student newspaper won first place and the Wesleyan yearbook won second place in a contest held by Gamma Upsilon, honorary fraternity for college students who work on publications.

Harry Huge of Holdrege is editor of the winning newspaper. Publications entered in the connalism at the University of Netest were judged by James Morrison, assistant professor of journbraska.

Senators Told How Saud Replaced U.S. As Tax Collector From ARAMCO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating senators heard Wednesday the story of how King Saud of Saudi Arabia replaced Uncle Sam as income tax collector from the rich concession of the Arabian American Oil Company (ARAMCO).

F. A. Davies, ARAMCO board chairman, testified that his company will pay 280 million dollars to Saudi Arabia on its gross earnings of about 749 millions in 1956.

He said direct income tax payments by ARAMCO to the United States will be $282,377, representing only operations in this country.

Davies was a witness before the special Senate group investigating the emergency oil lift for Europe. He was asked almost no questions about this operation Wednesday, however.

More In Taxes

Up until 1950, Davies said, ARAMCO was paying the U.S. government more in income taxes than the King of Saudi Arabia was collecting in royalties of about 21 or 22 cents a barrel.

He said heavy pressure from the Arabian leaders for "a 50-50 take of profits" forced ARAMCO to agree to a Saudian Arabian income tax.

Under this, Davies said, ARAMCO will pay just under 200 millions for last year in addition to royalties of more than 80 millions. And he agreed that all of this can be offset against profits of some 280 millions so the company will owe no income tax to the U.S. government on its Arabian operations.

Davies said the Arabian company had a 152 million dollars depletion allowance under U.S. tax laws last year, which allows 27½ per cent of earnings to be set aside before taxes apply.

Davies related that the Arabian 1950 income tax was set up under a decree by the King after consulting tax experts from the United States.

And he agreed that if higher royalties had been set up, rather than the Arabian income tax, company profits would be subject now to the U.S. tax.

"I hope no one gets the impression that the United States does not benefit from taxes on these profits," he said.

He explained that the four U.S. oil companies which are partners in ARAMCO must pay 8½ per cent on their shares and that in turn thousands of their stockholders also pay income taxes as individuals.

Davies estimated that about 100 million dollars of ARAMCO's 280 million profits last year would land in the U.S. Treasury.

"Felt I'd Burst From Pressure and Pain of Monthly Cramps 'Til New Tablet Did What Aspirin Couldn't!"

Model Photo

Writes Mrs. L. H., Kansas City, Mo., "Thought my body would burst from pressure and pain of monthly cramps. Nothing I tried helped until I found Pinkham's Tablets! Feel so much better now!"

For millions of women who suffer tortures of cramps and nervous tension every month, a new day has dawned! An amazing new tablet, developed especially to relieve this female discomfort, brings greater relief than aspirin for these miseries!

Relief for 3 out of 4 tested!

Doctors report amazing results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pains and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, backaches, other functional distress. Were less jittery before their period.

This new discovery offers more relief than aspirin because it contains not just 1 or 2 ingredients but a unique combination of medicines. Unlike "general purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has remarkable power to calm uterine contractions; also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," they're at all drugstores without prescription. Try handy Pinkham's Tablets. See if you don't feel worlds better! See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort — before and during those "difficult days." (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Al Misegadis To File As Candidate For Governorship

Al Misegadis, Talmage, Neb., lobbyist, Wednesday announced he will file "sometime next week" as a candidate for governor in the state's 1958 elections.

He was a petition candidate for second district Congressman last fall.

Misegadis said he will file for governor as a representative of the Constitution party.

He said the party plans a convention in Lincoln next Feb. 12 and an attempt will be made to put the party on the election ballot.

Misegadis said his platform, in part, will be based on:

—Governors to be put in all cars and trucks for speed control.

—Opposed to all forms of farm and labor subsidies.

—Abolishing of license fees on cars and trucks.

—For permanent car and truck license plates.

—The closing of the Peru and Chadron normal schools and the State Trade School at Milford.

Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

For quick relief get Doan's Pills. They work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by their soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Find out how quickly this 3-way medicine goes to work. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Ask for new, large size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

You can't buy a bigger station wagon anywhere...at any price!

Yet, this smooth-riding Plymouth Suburban is still in the low-price 3

When you have a few minutes, try to count how many different makes of station wagons are being built this year.

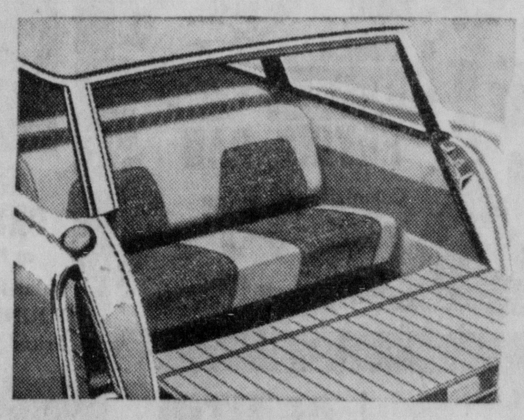
Then consider this point:

There isn't a single station wagon built that's bigger than the new Plymouth.

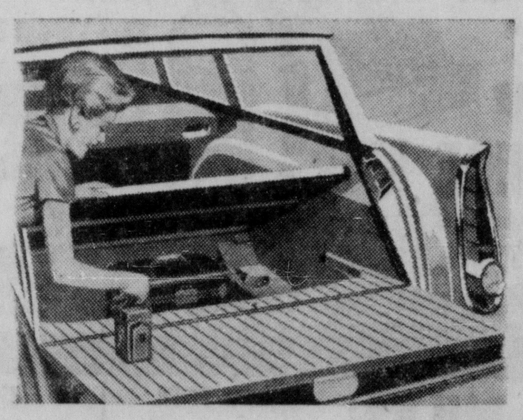
We're not just talking about the low-price 3, though Plymouth has the biggest in the lowest-price range. We mean all station wagons . . . low-price, medium-price, right on up to the so-called "big" luxury wagons. You can't buy bigger than Plymouth no matter how much you spend!

So why spend more—and settle for less? Especially when Plymouth offers you the magic smoothness of velvety Torsion-Aire Ride . . . Push-Button Driving . . . Total-Contact Brakes . . . Flight-Sweep Styling . . . and the power-for-safety of up to 290 hp.

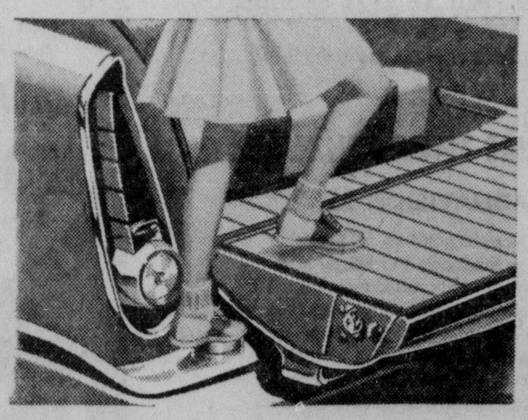
There's none bigger . . . and when you actually drive a Suburban you'll agree there's none better! See for yourself —at your Plymouth dealer's!



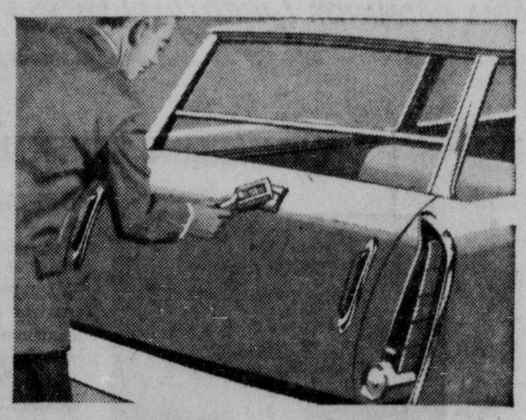
New Observation Seat. Available in all 9-passenger Suburban models. Folds flush into floor for extra cargo space.



Hidden luggage compartment. Almost 10 cubic feet of locked space for safe, out-of-sight storage of luggage and valuables. On 6-passenger models.



Comfort steps on both sides of tailgate. Specially designed to make it so easy to get in and out of the new Observation Seat.



Disappearing rear window. Rolls down into tailgate. Locks securely from inside. Electrically controlled on all 9-passenger models.

THEY DON'T COME ANY BIGGER THAN Plymouth SUBURBANS

Election At York Cut, Dried

YORK, Neb. (AP)—With but one ticket in the field, York's forthcoming city election is pretty much a cut and dried affair.

The real contest came at the city Republican caucus which drew a turnout of some 400 citizens—one of the largest in the history of the city.

Hubert Zieg, incumbent councilman, won the mayoralty nomination over O. N. Miller, also a member of the council. Zieg won on the second ballot.

Republican Nominees

Other Republican nominees: Ed Roberts for re-election to fourth term as city clerk-treasurer; Ray Svehla, police magistrate.

Henry L. Meyer, James Urbach, V. M. Patterson and A. Hubert Foster art council candidates-all unopposed. Urbach and Patterson are former councilmen.

In the school district race, Robert Keefe, E. A. Levitt, Dr. Lyle Furst and Elmer Klute are the nominees—two to be elected. Keefe is an incumbent.

CHILD HOSPITAL TO HAVE POISON CONTROL CENTER

OMAHA (AP) — The board of trustees of Children's Memorial Hospital has approved a poison control center for the care of youngsters who swallow poisons.

This will be the only such center between Chicago and Denver.

The center will not only treat emergency poison cases, but will provide information to doctors, police officials and other hospitals in western Iowa and Nebraska.

W. L. Shomaker, president of the board of trustees, said the hospital handled all children's poison cases in the county last year and there was not a single fatality.

Truck Size Bill Refused Introduction

The Unicameral Wednesday refused to permit introduction of a bill which would have allowed longer and heavier trucks to operate on Nebraska highways.

The Government Committee which Sen. Norman Otto heads sought to introduce the bill and 22 votes were needed. But the vote was 14-14.

Sen. Monroe Bixler, who said he never has voted with the trucking industry on tax measures but thought the new bill deserved consideration, moved to have the action reconsidered. His motion lost 13-18.

Otto, who said the bill would put Nebraska laws into conformity with 11 western states, reeled off a list of Chambers of Commerce in Nebraska backing the legislation.

The measure would have extended the allowed truck length from 50 to 60 feet. As a result of the revised load distribution, weights also could be increased without increasing the weight per wheel, Otto indicated.

STATE SENATORS ASK CONGRESS FOR ACCEPTABLE CORN PROGRAM

Nebraska state legislators approved 34-0 a resolution asking Congress to resolve its differences "without delay" and enact an acceptable 1957 corn program.

The resolution, introduced by Sen. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora, said "disastrously low prices of both corn and livestock will follow very soon" unless Congress adopts a corn program palatable enough to prompt greater farmer participation and to actually control production.

Sen. Jensen told the Legislature the corn program "has been a political football" every time it has come up for discussion.

"One of the fallacies of the present administration is the theory that a reduced price will reduce production," the senator said. "When farmers go broke, there will be a reduction in production, and only then."

50 High Schools To Participate In NU Meeting

More than 50 Nebraska high schools will be represented Saturday at the third annual conference sponsored by the University of Nebraska for high school students and University freshmen.

Dr. Floyd W. Hoover, registrar, said the conference is held to help high school educators to better prepare students for college and to help the University do a better job in its freshman program.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will welcome the high school educators at a noon luncheon and Dr. George W. Rosenlof, professor of secondary education, will be moderator for a panel discussion.

Taking part in the discussion of "college day" plans will be Principal M. L. Christensen of Wahoo, Principal Roy E. Nelson of Alliance, Asst. Principal Harlan Taylor of Lincoln Northeast and Don D. Twiford of the State Education Department.

Legislative bills increasing assistance from the state to the aged and raising the maximum aid to the blind were released from committee Wednesday.

Both measures were aired in public hearing before the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

As introduced by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, LB 167 would increase the maximum amount of aid to persons receiving old age assistance from $65 to $70 a month. The present ceiling of $65 is paid $35 by the federal government and $30 by the state.

'Not Bright Spot'

Sen. Klaver told the committee, which advanced the bill 4-1 without amendment, Nebraska is "not too bright a spot when it comes to feeding old people." The senator said the measure would cost an additional $412,000 a year and would affect about 5,800 people.

No opposition was voiced to either measure during the hearing.

Walt Warnsholz, legal counsel for the State Welfare Department, told the committee the entire amount of the increase would have to be from state funds. He noted that Gov. Anderson in his budget recommendations to the Legislature had taken off $2 million from the Welfare Department budget for assistance.

This amount, however, was replaced by the federal government which increased its ratio of aid to the state assistance programs.

The federal government now participates in assistance programs only up to a maximum of $60, Warnsholz said.

Other backers of the bill included Art Holmburg, Nebraska Association of County Officials, who said "we owe it to the old people for something additional to eat and a better place to live."

Other proponents included Mrs. Fern Anderson, Buffalo County Public Welfare director; Gordon Preble, president of the AFL-CIO in Nebraska, and L. K. Emry, representing the Federated Railroad Shop Crafts.

$100 Ceiling Added

The bill, LB 498, originally designed to remove the present $80 ceiling for state assistance to the blind was amended in committee to a top of $100 and reported to general file.

Jack Swager, Omaha, vice president of the Nebraska Council for the Blind, told the committee that as a blind person he "would hate to live on less than $80 a month." The cost of living of the blind, he noted, was 25 per cent higher than for others.

Swager noted that blind persons because they are sightless can't take advantage of "bargain" purchases because "you never get a chance to pick?" The blind, he said, can only buy what is sold to them.

Another backer of the bill, Rev. Robert Gaston, pastor of the United Lutheran Church in York, asked the committee to make the blind program "more adequate and more equitable."

Another bill proponent John Sneddon of Lincoln, president of the Nebraska Council for the Blind, noted that only a small percentage of those receiving blind assistance would be getting the maximum.

The committee was told that only about 850 of some 3,000 blind persons in the state receive aid.

Izvestia Suggests Russia Scatter Its Scientists

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia suggested Wednesday the wholesale transfer of Soviet scientists and technicians from Moscow and Leningrad to Siberia and other distant areas.

The Soviet government newspaper complained that too many scientific research institutions are located in the two big cities and that many duplicate each other's work, causing Russian scientists to lag behind other countries in some fields.

Bills To Cut State Assistance Could 'Collapse' Plan—Officials

The Nebraska Association of County Officials is opposing pending legislation that would reduce state assistance appropriation by $2.5 million and lead to the "possible collapse" of the program.

All county boards are urged by an Association letter, signed by its officers and legislative committee members, to call special sessions, if necessary, to inform their local state senators of each county's stand on the issue.

The county officials group urges that Legislative Bills 171, 172 and 484 be approved as originally introduced.

If amended legislation is enacted in line with the Governor's budget recommendation, the additional federal funds made available for the increased costs of assistance payment and medical care would not be transferred to the counties to meet increased costs, according to the Association.

Before Board Tuesday

The Lancaster County Board is expected to consider the matter next Tuesday. It is generally considered the Board shares the Association's views on the public assistance question.

Several Board discussions have centered on so-called state attempts to shift tax needs to the counties, but no formal action has been taken.

Nebraska is the only state appropriating less money from state funds for public assistance than was appropriated ten years earlier, according to the letter.

Nebraska has held down its costs because (1) while the national load went up 41 per cent, the state load went down 19 per cent, and (2) major financial responsibility for medical care was transferred to the counties.

State Blasted

"In face of increased costs," the Association charges, "the State of Nebraska is deliberately and recklessly reducing its public welfare expenditures and transferring the additional obligation to federal and county governments."

The group contends "this is creating a financial crisis for some counties" and that reliable reports indicate some counties will be unable to make sufficient levy to meet increased public assistance costs.

"If this proves to be true," the Association contends "a special session of the Unicameral would be required to avoid collapse of the entire state-federal assistance program" in Nebraska.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

A new restaurant opened in down town Phoenix while I was away. The Chambord.

The waiters were all dressed in red coats and a lady at the electric organ was playing "People Will Say We're in Love."

"Before we get into important money," I told the waiter, "see if the management will honor this traveler's check."

The waiter took the check away. In a few minutes a man came over in a white dinner jacket. His cummerbund came up to his chest. Very elegant.

"Thank you! Thank you.!

"You're welcome. What for?"

"For coming in," he said. "What would you like?"

"Could I have my $50?"

"Naturally. Bring the gentleman $50. I wish you have a million of these checks. Why they have to ask me, I'll never know. We've only been open two weeks and I tell you these boys are driving me crazy."

☆ ☆ ☆

The lady on the organ switched to "The Poor People of Paris."

"How would you like a steak? My steaks are just like butter. Butter."

"How about the butter? Is it like a steak?"

"Ha, ha. This is going to be a wonderful restaurant. If this were The Chambord in New York, you'd pay $70 for such a dinner. Here we serve a complete dinner for $5.85."

I said I would take $5.85 worth of dinner.

At the next table, two red-coated waiters wheeled over a Chateaubriand. The man in the dinner jacket rushed over.

"Cut it, cut it!" he cried. "Don't let it get cold!"

The waiters looked at each other. "What with?"

"With a knife," cried the man. "Honestly, you boys are driving me crazy!"

☆ ☆ ☆

The man came back to my table and reconfirmed that he was going crazy.

"The Chambord people in New York sent me out to open this restaurant. But you can't find trained waiters. It honestly drives me crazy."

The lady on the organ slid into "Singin' in the Rain."

The waiter rolled up a cart with a steak.

"Try it," he said, imploringly. "Like butter."

They both stood there while I made the first incision.

"It looks like steak."

"The very best steak. A steak like that at Chambord's in New York would be reserved for a most important customer. Here we serve them to everybody."

"Even ME?"

"Even you."

☆ ☆ ☆

Since I have never seen a man going crazy, I went into the Chambord three nights in a row.

Each night, the man in the dinner jacket thanked me. Each night he assured me he was going crazy.

"Do the Chambord people in New York know about this? How you are being driven crazy?"

He said he didn't want to bother them with his problems.

Personally, it seemed to me things were going great guns. The restaurant was full every night. The martinis came in iced containers and the waiters had found some steak scalpels.

It seemed an odd though successful way to open a restaurant. Next time you are in Phoenix you might try it. You meet the craziest people.

REFORMATORY HEAD BELIEVES HE MUST 'SHOW WHO'S BOSS'

OMAHA (AP) — State Reformatory Supt. Robert Nichols told the Omaha Tribe of Yessir that he treats inmates as he would expect to be treated if he were an inmate.

Why?

"If we don't show the inmates who is running the reformatory, it won't be long before they will be telling us," said Nichols.

He said he felt the most important thing was to "teach them some moral values—show them that it's still a sin to tell a lie."

Reports Of Imminent New Attack Persist In Cuba

HAVANA (INS) — Reports of a large-scale battle between Cuban rebels and government troops, with heavy casualties on both sides, persisted in Havana diplomatic circles Wednesday night despite government denials.

Havana also was flooded with rumors — all officially-denied — of "imminent" new attacks on the Batista government, from land or sea or both.

According to reports reaching foreign diplomats in the capital, a rebel band attacked the army base at El Macho in Oriente Province last Saturday and 67 soldiers and 22 rebels were killed in fighting that continued through Sunday.

Scene of the reported battle is six hundred miles east of Havana in the Sierra Madre Mountains, hideaway stronghold of rebel leader Fidel Castro.

Surprise Assault

Reports of the weekend battle followed last Wednesday's surprise assault on the presidential palace in Havana, in which some 40 student rebels and troops and a U.S. tourist were killed, but President Fulgencio Batista escaped unharmed.

According to the reports, the rebels seized a large quantity of rifles, machineguns and grenades in the surprise attack which assertedly included landings of anti-government forces from the sea.

Cuban Army chief Maj. Gen. Francisco Tabernilla flatly denied there was any truth to the battle reports. Batista who also has insisted the country is calm and under control, told International News Service on Sunday that Castro was no threat to his government and had been reduced to a following of only a handful of men —"Three or four" is the way Batista put it.

'Not Convinced'

Havana newspapers carried no word of any battle, but foreign diplomats in the capital said they were "not convinced" the reports were untrue.

The attack on the El Macho base reportedly was led by Jose Miguel Aleman, son of the former minister of education in the regime of President Grau.

The capital city itself is outwardly calm but as darkness falls each evening, the streets rapidly become almost deserted. Few American tourists are seen abroad after dark. The casinos, which thronged with American and other tourists until last week's uprising at the presidential palace, are in the doldrums with little business.

'Fleet Massing'

MEXICO CITY (INS) — A Mexican newspaper said Wednesday reports have reached the government that Cuban rebels are massing an invasion "fleet" off Mexico for a new attempt to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista's government.

The newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Mexico's Interior Ministry had received reports that 12 fast fishing boats were being assembled off Chetumal for an attempt to land rebel forces at various points in Cuba.

Chetumal is at the southeastern tip of Mexico in the sparsely settled Quintana Roo territory. The newspaper said the fleet was purchased in Miami, presumably provided by former Cuban President Dr. Carlos Prio Socarras, who was deposed in a coup led by Batista in 1952.

Stocks Mix Gains; Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ended with a mixture of gains and losses Wednesday when a morning advance failed to hold through to the close.

While most stocks finished higher, the number with plus signs was not nearly as large as it had been before a final-hour price erosion set in.

At the outset steels, oils and drugs paced a continuation of the rally which got under way late in the previous session. Later they were joined by aluminums and coppers.

Demand stemmed partly from the announcement late Tuesday of a reduction in bankers acceptances rates, leading some analysts to believe the tight money situation may be easing.

Also helpful was a forecast by the Federal Reserve Board of continued growth in installment buying over the next decade.

Buying power petered out late, possibly because traders were awaiting the regular monthly report on short interest. The report showed another increase in the short interest to 3,002,510 shares on March 15 compared with 2,815,519 shares on Feb. 15.

Short interest is the amount of stock which has been sold short. The sellers hope to make a profit if the market declines.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended unchanged at $173.80 with industrials up 20 cents, rails up 10 cents and utilities down 20 cents.

Volume totaled 1,830,000 shares compared with 1,540,000 Tuesday.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Volume totaled 730,000 shares compared with 600,000 Tuesday.

Grains Reverse Long Downturn

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures finally got going on the upward path on the Board of Trade Wednesday after a long downturn.

Gains of one to two cents a bushel were common in most pits. Even soybeans, which had started weakly, joined in the upward movement.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1⅜ higher, corn ⅞ to 1⅞ up, oats unchanged to 2 cents higher, rye ½ to 1½ higher, soybeans ½ to 2 cents higher, and lard 5 cents a hundred pounds higher to 8 cents lower.

The upturn in wheat followed a long slump in which prices had dropped around 5 to 12 cents a bushel in seven trading sessions. Traders had felt a technical rally was due. One got started at the opening Tuesday, but it didn't last long.

Wednesday was the last trading session in March contracts of all grains, soybean oil and soybean meal. Any contracts still unsettled Wednesday must be settled by delivery of the actual grain. Open interest was not large, and some liquidation had been expected by many traders. However, the March contracts in most cases were the strongest of all.

Generally speaking, the rally appeared due to short-covering and a lack of the general liquidation which has hit the pits in recent sessions.

Dr. Adams Throws Champagne Party

... In His Old Bailey Jail Cell

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams threw a champagne party Wednesday to celebrate the dramatic way his lawyers have rocked the prosecution's star witness at his murder trial.

"They had a nice little party in his cell," said a policeman at London's Old Bailey Criminal Court where the case is drawing a packed house. "The doctor even sent out for champagne."

The celebration took place in the prisoner's cell beneath the courtroom. Several members of his defense team were present.

The 58-year-old society physician is accused by drugging a rich widow to death more than six years ago. Scotland Yard got on the case only last summer and arrested the doctor for murder in December.

His alleged victim was 81-year-old Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell.

After the third day of evidence taking at the trial, the concensus around the marble corridors of Old Bailey was that if Dr. Adams goes free, it will be due to his chief attorney, Geoffrey Lawrence, famous for his merciless cross examinations.

Lawrence wrung an almost tearful confession from a prosecution witness that she had violated the instructions of Justice Patrick Devlin not to discuss the case.

The witness was one of four trained nurses who attended Mrs. Morrell.

Navy Mercy Flight Rushes Rare Blood To Injured Man

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Naval Air Station was instrumental Wednesday in a dramatic flight — spanning more than 450 air miles—to save a Navy man's life.

A car-truck collision on Highway 30 near Sutherland Tuesday morning critically injured Navy Hospital Apprentice Jay Wadsworth, 24, of Milton-Freewater, Ore.

Taken to the Southerland hospital, Wadsworth, suffering from loss of blood, was discovered to have rare blood type B-negative.

No blood of that type was available at the Southerland hospital. Calls to the Red Cross Blood Center in Omaha and St. Mary's Hospital in North Platte produced three pints—not enough for the navy man, who was suffering shock, internal injuries and a probable ruptured spleen. More blood was badly needed.

Wednesday the Navy came to the aid of the injured man. A call to the Naval Training Station Hospital at Great Lakes, Ill., revealed that they had some of the precious B-negative blood to spare. They rushed five pints by ambulance to the Naval Air Station at Glenview, Ill., where it was placed aboard a Lockheed 2V2 jet and flown to the Lincoln Air Station. Flight time—an hour and 25 minutes.

A twin engine Beechcraft plane was warming up on the runway at the Lincoln Station when the blood arrived at about 4:50 p.m. and was airborne by 5:03.

As an added assist, the Lincoln Station thoughtfully manned the plane with Lt. Cmdr. Roy Cole, who also has B-negative blood.

Cole and his co-pilot Lt. Cmdr. Gerald Huffman, made a quick stop at the Naval Ammunition Depot at Hastings, where they picked up two more pints of blood, and landed at the North Platte airport at a little after 6 p.m. The State Safety Patrol was waiting there to speed the blood by car to Sutherland—a distance of about 21 miles.

Admittedly proud of their part in the liaison work, the Lincoln Naval Air Station officials commented that the trip would have been made faster had they sent a jet to North Platte, but runways there are too short for safe jet landing.

PATROLMAN SCORES TRIPLE

State Safety Patrolman Ben Molcyk of Lincoln had a busy morning Wednesday.

In the space of a few hours he found a stolen car, picked up the youths who stole it, and arrested a man sought by Virginia law authorities.

Molcyk found the car, which had been stolen in Omaha, abandoned near Waverly. A few minutes later he picked up a hitchhiker, who turned out to be a 30-year-old man whom Virginia authorities had been searching for on a fugitive warrant since last December. He said he had been living in Lincoln.

Shortly thereafter Molcyk noticed two boys walking along Cornhusker Highway near 38th St. He stopped and picked them up. The youths, ages 13 and 14, admitted they were the ones who'd stolen the car in Omaha. They were held for Omaha authorities.

Water Works Bill Approved

... By Committee

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON — The Senate Public Works Committee has approved a bill—similar to one vetoed last year by President Eisenhower—to authorize future construction of water projects costing something under 1½ billion dollars.

Nebraska projects authorized in the omnibus bill include:

Ainsworth unit—$1,100,999 for acquisition of right of way, planning an award of contract for Merritt Dam and reservoir and access road.

Bostwick—$1,471,000 for continuation of main Courtland Canal and completion of Miller Canal and for parts of West Canal and other work.

Farwell—$750,000 to start work.

Frenchman-Cambridge—$3,260,000 to continue major work on Meeker-Driftwood distribution system and for Frenchman unit and Culbertson system.

Sargent—$313,000 for canal and dike work.

School Bond Issue

DAVENPORT, Neb. — A special election will be held April 2 in Davenport on a $280,000 bond issue proposal for the new school building for Davenport School District 47.

OPINION SEES DOUBT OF LEGALITY OF OMAHA ANNEXATION PLAN

An attorney general's opinion Wednesday declared unconstitutional a bill which deals with the possible annexation of School District 66 in Omaha.

A bill, LB 174, now on general file in the Legislature, would give the district power to remain separate from the Omaha School district. Only a majority of voters in District 66 could force an annexation.

The attorney general's opinion held the bill, and amendments added in committee, created "considerable doubt as to the constitutionality of the measure." The opinion said "It is difficult to see any basis for classification of school districts merely on their location within or without the limits of a city."

The opinion questioned the granting of privileges to one or another district and imposing obligations in the same manner.

Although applying directly to LB 174, which had Omaha senators in hot water because of the controversy, the opinion could have a wider application to school districts. At present, only metropolitan cities are affected by the particular law.

Questions involved in the annexation fight revolved around revenue bonds issued for school construction in District 66.

LB 174 would provide a different liability and method of determining the liability for bonded indebtedness of a high school district whose territory now is within the city limits. This would apply in event of a merger.

Primary consideration would hinge on whether Omaha or the district would take responsibility for retiring bonds acquired in both or either of the districts.

Because of the opinion issued Wednesday, the bill likely will be withdrawn at the request of the Omaha senators who originally backed the measure.

Navy Chief Thomas Asks Bar On Wage, Hour Laws In U.S. Areas Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Thomas Wednesday urged passage of a bill barring application of U.S. wage and hour laws in areas within foreign countries in which the United States has jurisdiction.

Thomas joined other Defense Department officials in telling a Senate subcommittee on labor standards that passage of such a bill could possibly save the United States half a billion dollars.

John H. Fanning, director of the Defense Department's office of domestic programs, urged the committee to act speedily because of recent filing of several federal court suits against American contractors for "alleged improper application of the wage-hour law to employment" at military bases in North Africa.

Costly

Chairman Kennedy (D-Mass) and other members of the subcommittee were told that paying foreign workers U.S. standard wages on such projects not only would be costly to U.S. taxpayers but would upset foreign economies.

The proposed legislation not only would rule out the United States' $1 per hour, 40-hour work week standards for hired foreign workers but also would alter the status of Guam, Wake Island and the Panama Canal zone in relation to wage-hour legislation.

These three possessions would be placed in a category with Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and American Samoa in that appropriate wages there would be determined by an industry committee composed of labor, management and government representatives.

Robert Dechert, Defense Department general counsel, explained that attention has been drawn to Guam because Filipino workers transported from their homeland are paid on a lower scale on U.S. military construction than Guamanians. However he added, the Filipinos still are paid a higher scale than in their native land and all transportation expenses are paid for them.

Kennedy announced receipt of a letter from Philippine ambassador Carlos Romulo expressing opposition to the proposed legislation.

Manager Indicates Consumers Still Hopes To Use Hallam Site

Consumers Public Power District's general manager indicated Wednesday night the district still is hoping to build its atomic power plant at the proposed Hallam site.

However, he refused comment on a statement made earlier by E. M. Schroll, Consumers district manager at Beatrice, that failure of Beatrice to enter into a new contract with Consumers would change Consumers' load center in southeast Nebraska.

That load center is a factor in determining location of the new plant.

No Others Studied

General Manager Ray Schacht told The Star that the district has purchased no other sites for the plant and has made "no other detailed studies" on sites.

Schacht pointed out that Consumers now has approximately $100,000 invested in the section of land bought near Hallam and has drilled test wells to determine whether the available water supply is sufficient.

The Hallam site also has available rail and gas facilities important to such a development, he said.

Kenneth Reed of the Beatrice Utility Board declined to answer Schroll's statement on the load center. Reed had earlier pointed out that the Nebraska public power load center in that region would not be changed because the city was considering three contract proposals from public power agencies, all of which obtain their power from the same sources and all conveying their power to within a mile and a half of Beatrice over a transmission line used by all.

Reed expressed regret that "so much unnecessary controversy has been injected into the Beatrice negotiations so undeservedly. Much of it seems to have been generated outside the public power districts and the Beatrice Utility Board."

He said, "We are not mad at anyone and we can see no point at this juncture in further muddying the water."

Lobby Expenses

John Curtiss, legislative lobbyist for Consumers Public Power District, reported to the secretary of state February expenses of $54.35. The Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Assn. reported it paid John W. Stewart of Lincoln $1,000 for lobbying services for the entire legislative session.
